INDUSTRY LIKES TAX CUT

. . . Some Farm Men Dislike Import Surtax

Washington (AP) — President Nixon's proposed revival of the investment tax credit was backed by a group of manufacturers at a congressional hearing Tuesday, while some farm leaders at the White House urged Nixon to end the 10% import surcharge as soon as possible.

The investment tax credit, renamed job development credit by the administration, would enable industries to deduct part of their investment in equipment from tax bills.

Consumer advocate Ralph Nader told the House Ways and Means Committee Congress should demand solid data on how many people the credit would put to work before voting for the plan.

"Considerable rhetoric, but little supporting information, has been provided by the administration," Nader said, adding: "The committee should require the administration to supply much more convincing data before considering this proposal."

At the White House, Nixon continued to gather advice on what sort of an economic program should replace the 90-day wage-price freeze ending in November.

5 Farm Leaders

Following up his previous meetings with labor and business groups, Nixon met Tuesday with five farm leaders: William J. Kuhfuss of Chicago, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation; John W. Scott of Washington, D.C., master of the National Grange; Robert C. McInturf of Fresno, Calif president of the National Council of Farm Cooperatives; Tony T. DeChant of Denver, Colo., president of the National Farmer's union, and Oren Lee Staley of Corning, Iowa, president of the National Farmers Organization.

Deputy presidential press secretary Gerald L. Warren told newsmen after the 90-minute session that the farm leaders "agreed to a man there should be a follow-on procedure" to restrain wages and prices when the current freeze ends.

But some of the farm spokesman want the import surcharge dropped, Warren said, because of fears that it could lead to retaliation against this country's exports.

A succession of business witnesses urged the House Ways and Means Committee to approve the job development credit and even to liberalize it beyond Nixon's recommendations.

Typical of the arguments that the credit is needed both to create jobs and to enable U.S. industry to compete more efficiently was the testimony of Melvin C. Holm, chairman of Carrier Corp., Syracuse, N.Y. He spoke for the National Association of Manufacturers.

"Important parts of our industrial machine are tired and obsolete, especially compared to our foreign competitors," Holm said.

He said that even with the accelerated depreciation allowance authorized early this year by the Treasury, U.S. businessmen are in worse position to recover equipment costs than those of "all our industrialized competitors with the single exception of the Netherlands."

Says U.S. Behind

Even with the proposed credit in effect at its permanent 5% rate, he said, the United States would in this respect be behind the average of its 11 leading competitors.

However, Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., told the committee the investment credit should be rejected and the rapid depreciation repealed.

Reuss suggested Congress concentrate on anti-inflation measures and, for the present, make no tax changes, not even those favoring individuals. Curbing inflation, he said, should restore confidence, encourage consumer and business spending, and so reduce unemployment.

Prison Chief Says Hostages Shot Dead

Attica, N.Y. (AP) — The head of New York prisons, abandoning a 24-hour-old official version, said Tuesday night hostages killed in riot-torn Attica prison did not die of slashed throats but were shot to death when inmates used them "as shields or forced them forward into gunfire."

State Corrections Commissioner Russell Oswald would not say whose gunfire it was. His list of weapons found in the prison included no guns. Other state officials earlier had said some crude, hand-made guns were found.

Oswald's reversal came just hours after a county medical examiner's report contradicted the official version that knife-wielding inmates fatally slashed most of the hostages who died as hundreds of police stormed convict-held areas of the prison Monday.

Monroe County Medical Examiner John F. Edland said Tuesday he found no cut throats on the bodies of eight of the nine hostages. Edland said the eight were shot dead. The death of the ninth hostage earlier had been ascribed to gunshot wounds.

Oswald said hundreds of homemade weapons, including Molotov cocktails, sharpened shears, steel and metal pipes, tear gas guns and projectiles, swords, bolos, straight razors and spiked baseball bats were found after control of the prison was regained.

Oswald met with newsmen at the prison late Tuesday night. He told them he agreed with the report of Monroe County medical examiner John F. Edland that the hostages were shot, but refused to answer questions from newsmen.

'No Cut Throats'

"There were no cut throats or any kind of mutilation," Edland reported after examining eight of the nine bodies. A ninth hostage already had been established as a gunshot victim.

The nine hostages were among 41 persons within the prison who lost their lives during the four-day rebellion, according to a revised State Corrections Department assessment of the bloodiest prison riot in New York's penal history.

"All eight cases died of gunshot wounds," Edland later told a news conference. "There was no evidence of slashed throats. There were two types of missiles found in both the inmates and the hostages. Some were buckshot. Some were larger caliber missiles."

In explanation of how the hostages died from gunshot wounds, Oswald said "the first and most obvious answer is the fact that inmates dressed all hostages in prison garb to insure difficulty in identifying prisoners and guards."

The hostages, he added, were also used as shields and forced forward into gunfire.

Officers' Reports

Oswald said one reason for the erroneous report was that several correction officers had stated they saw hostages drop and their throats appeared to be cut.

He said the 1,241 inmates who participated in the rebellion are confined now in three cellblocks in "highly undesirable overcrowding."

His description of the hostage deaths, Oswald said, was based on the information supplied by the medical examiner.

Oswald differed with Edland in insisting that some of the dead hostages bore marks of knive bore marks of knives.

Oswald said they had "slashes on throats and backs of necks, punctures, apparent broken arms, black eyes and abrasions in nearly every hostage."

California Man Killed In Mishap

Kearney (AP) — Dennis Michael Stevens, 24, of Stenson Beach, Calif., was killed Tuesday night when his car struck the rear of a mobile home that was being towed into a trailer court.

State Trooper C. L. Mulford said Stevens was dead on arrival at a hospital after the accident on U.S. 30 about two miles west of Kearney.

A passing motorcyclist, Thomas Luers, 18, of Grand Island, was treated for an eye cut after he was hit by a piece of the trailer.

Union Hinted In 5-Country Talks

By United Press International

Central America's five mini-states celebrate their 150th independence anniversary Wednesday by taking what could turn out to be the first serious steps toward a return to their original political union.

When Mexico gained its independence in 1821, Central America, the southern portion of the Spanish colony of New Spain, had no choice but to declare its independence, too.

Central America remained one nation for 16 years. It was the victory of the Federalists over the Unionists in 1837 that determined its disintegration into five independent and sovereign states.

On Monday, 10 congressman from each of the Central American nations — Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua and Costa Rica — met in Guatemala City, where the original declaration of independence was read.

The meeting was billed as the "first Central American parliament" and the congressmen, who were expected to announce their conclusions Wednesday, discussed the creation of the "Central American community."

The draft project proposed by the president of the Guatemalan congress, Mario Sandoval Alarcon, calls for the creation of a supernational body with three main branches: An executive council, a Central American congress and a Central American court of justice.

If the project is approved by the congressmen and ratified by each government, the Central American community would be responsible for speeding up isthmian integration and presenting a common Central American front to the rest of the world.

Common Foreign Policy

The community would "plan, direct and execute" a common foreign policy and designate the representatives of Central America before other states and international bodies. Central America would have common diplomatic missions and consular offices.

The Central American congress would legislate on matters of common interest for all the Central American nations, like off-shore fisheries limits.

For the laws passed by the Central American congress to enter into force, the only requirement would be that the chief executive of each state afix his signature. Central American laws would need unanimity in order to be effective.

The Central American court of justice would be endowed with a binding character in settling disputes among Central American states.

Customs Eliminated

Customs and immigration requirements would be all but eliminated among the five sister states and a common Central American nationality would be established for the area's 15 million inhabitants.

A scheme has been suggested to apply a certain percentage of the revenues accruing to a proposed Central American customs union for the financing of the Central American community.

Despite the still festering sores left by the border cash in July 1969 between Honduras and El Salvador, the Central American common market is pointed to as one of the more successful attempts at regional economic integration.

Politically, the regimes in power in Central America are more or less attune, with the possible exception of Costa Rica, with its military-minus model democracy.

NU Faculty Senate Forms Tenure Watchdog Unit

By MILAN WALL

The faculty senate at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln was told Tuesday that a special committee had been formed to keep the faculty abreast of "developments" on the tenure issue.

Law Prof. Harvey Perlman said in a report at the first fall meeting of the senate that the "special committee on tenure" was formed in the wake of NU President D. B. Varner's summer comments on tenure.

Varner said in remarks to a university governance committee in June that he believed faculty members should work to improve the tenure system from within the institution before change comes from outside.

"As most of you know," said Perlman, "tenure — the procedures which are designed to protect academic freedom — have increasingly been called into question, not only by some outside the university but by individuals from within."

Perlman's report said that Varner's remarks to the governance committee had been "interpreted (by some), correctly or incorrectly, to cast doubt on the status of academic freedom and the level of commitment to formal and fair procedures in personnel matters at this university."

As a result, Perlman said, two of the senate's committees — liaison and academic privilege and tenure — had agreed that:

— a "reasoned explanation of the tenure system should be prepared and if need be changes proposed to strengthen tenure and improve its effectiveness," and —a "committee should be formed to coordinate and encourage whatever faculty efforts were required and to keep the faculty informed of developments on this issue."

Perlman said the special committee includes two representatives of each of the committees that agreed on the procedure, plus one representative each of the local chapters of the American Association of University Professors and the American Federation of Teachers.

Both Varner and the chairman of the Board of Regents have been notified of the committee's formation, Perlman said.

"We view the function of the committee as primarily one of coordination, planning and keeping the senate informed," Perlman said on behalf of the special committee. "We hope that actions or contemplated actions relating to tenure will be made known to the committee."

Perlman said the committee believes no senate action is necessary until the governance committee completes its report on tenure, but he said the special committee will in the meantime "closely monitor developments on tenure both local and abroad."

"Should steps be made to seriously modify tenure, and in turn destroy academic freedom, this senate should be in a position to make its views known," Perlman said.

Senate President James Lake, a law professor who is also chairing a subcommittee in the study on university governance, asked faculty members to forward to him "any view" on tenure.

"I have talked to nobody who is adverse to a re-examination of tenure," Lake said. "such an 'adverse' attitude, he suggested, would be "untrue" to faculty professionalism.

Girl Listed Satisfactory After Kidney Transplant

Major surgery that Jennie Kirtley said she was looking forward to was completed successfully Tuesday in an operation that lasted from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., according to a spokesman at Bishop Clarkson Hospital in Omaha.

During the operation, a kidney from Jennie's father, William H. Kirtley, of 1720 Sumner, was transplanted into Jennie.

Both patients were reported in satisfactory condition, a hospital spokesman said.

Jennie, 20, has had renal difficulties from childhood. During the last year these difficulties had become acute. On August 5 of this year both her kidneys were removed, making necessary twice-weekly trips to the Omaha hospital to receive dialysis treatment to purify her blood

Jennie and her father checked into Clarkson Sunday to prepare for the operation. According to hospital officials, Jennie's father should be able to come home in about two weeks. Jennie should come home a week later, if all goes well.

She is looking forward to the day when "I'll be able to eat anything and drink all the liquids I want," she said.

24 Natural Resource Districts Are Given Final Approval

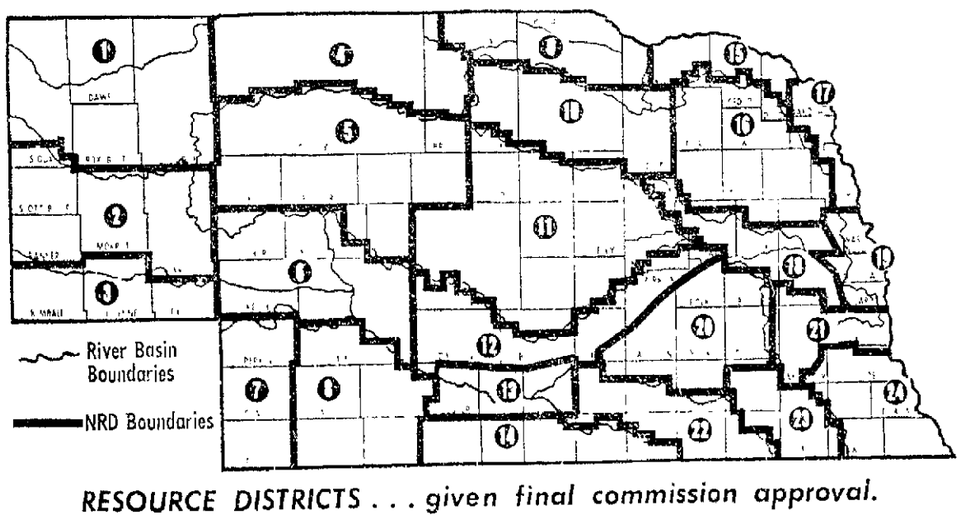
The State Soil and Water Conservation Commission Tuesday gave final approval to the 24 Natural Resource Districts (NRDs) drawn basically along river basins.

The commission was ordered last May by LB538 to scrap the 33 districts which it had devised using criteria other than the river basin method. The act called for 16-28 new NRDs by Oct. 1, 1971 and moved their effective date back from Jan. 1, 1972 to July 1, 1972. This was intended to give the 1972 Legislature a chance to scrutinize the districts.

At the meeting Tuesday, the commission initially voted to depart from the river basin guideline at the suggestion of some critics of the plan. However, later the commission members rescinded the changes and voted to accept the boundaries as they were drawn at first. They said those who were dissatisfied with the plan could request a hearing.

One of the groups opposing the plan was the Elkhorn Basin Watershed Association represented by John Thor.

Objecting to an "arbitrary" boundary separating the Upper and Lower Elkhorn Resource Districts, Thor said, "We think that the Elkhorn basin should be one district. By splitting the basin, the Lower Elkhorn farmers could lose $100,000 in business due to a lack of irrigation.



RESOURCE DISTRICTS . . . given final commission approval.

"The Lower Elkhorn has some of the richest land in Nebraska, but it's been dry in past years We can't afford to accept anything but the union of the two areas."

Commission members told members of the association that the boundaries are not intended to prevent cooperation between districts and that it is possible for NRDs to sponsor joint projects.

It was also suggested that Webster County be transferred from the Little Blue District to the Lower Republican District.

Two Germanys Deadlocked

Bonn — Implementation of the four-power Berlin accord remained at a standstill with East and West Germany deadlocked in talks over varying interpretations of the agreement. The two German states were assigned to work out details of the accord, but have been at an impasse almost since the beginning.

Roosa Opposes Devaluation

Washington — Robert V. Roosa, former undersecretary of the Treasury for monetary affairs, spoke out at a Senate finance subcommittee hearing against devaluing the dollar through a small increase in the price of gold, as now demanded by the European Common Market.

Thant Accepts China's Stand

United Nations, N.Y. — Secretary General U Thant has accepted as a "firm statement of policy" China's declaration that it would refuse its seat in the United Nations as long as Taiwan remained a member. He also felt that the chances of reaching a solution to the China issue during the next session of the general assembly were "much brighter" now.

Mills And Byrnes Agree

Washington — Reps. Wilbur D. Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, and John W. Byrnes, another influential member of the committee, agreed that Congress should repeal part, but not all, of a tax break for business in order to give new tax relief to poor persons without voting more over-all tax reductions than President Nixon has asked. (More on Page 1.)

Lindsay Calls Hruska Peril

Washington (UPI) — Mayor John V Lindsay of New York slapped a table Tuesday, pointed his finger at Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., and said: "You are endangering the life of every policeman in this country" by opposing a nationwide ban on the possession of pistols.

But Hruska, the Senate's chief opponent of "confiscatory" gun control proposals, shrugged off Lindsay's anger and told him a ban on handguns had not worked for 50 years in New York state and would be just as ineffective nationally.

"If the majestic state, the Empire State, with all its wealth and all its resources, cannot enforce its laws, the federal government cannot either," Hruska told Lindsay, citing the mayor's own testimony that 450 000 unregistered handguns were owned by New Yorkers

Their dispute lasted for more than an hour at a hearing by the Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee. Chairman Birch Bayh, D-Ind., finally ended it, saying "the immovable object and the irresistible force have met."

Lindsay came here to chastise the Nixon administration for its "lack of national leadership" which he said had made it impossible for New York City, with a tough gun registration law, to stop the flow of handguns into the city. Seven New York policemen were killed last year and 10 so far this year and the number of homicides committed with guns in New York rose from 174 to 1965 to 565 last year.

In calling for the "extreme step" of a nearly total nationwide ban on the production, sale or possession of handguns, Lindsay went far beyond the bill proposed by Bayh.

Bayh's measure seeks only to end the importation and production of "Saturday night specials" — pistols which cost as little as $1 to make and which sell for as little as $5. One million were sold in this country last year and Bayh said they accounted for 43% of all murders by gun.

Bayh offered the limited bill in hopes of reaching a quick congressional consensus "to close this loophole" in the 1968 gun control act.

The law bans the importation of those cheap guns but allows dealers to import the parts and assemble them in this country or to manufacture them in the United States.

Witness Relates Medina 'Surprised'

Ft McPherson, Ga. (UPI) — Lt. William L. Calley Jr. said Capt. Ernest L. Medina was "certainly surprised" to learn of the slaughter at My Lai, a witness testified Tuesday.

Capt. Robert L. Hicks recalled Calley's conversation out of the presence of the jury hearing Medina's court-martial

The testimony of Hicks and several more character witnesses took up Tuesday's session and set the stage for the flinty-eyed Medina to take the witness stand in his own defense Wednesday.

"I'm simply running out of witnesses," said Defense Atty F. Lee Bailey. "It looks like Captain Medina will take the stand tomorrow."

Medina is accused of overall responsibility for 102 murders of South Vietnamese villagers at My Lai.

My Lai 'Mentioned'

Hicks testified that Calley "mentioned My Lai" in a 1968 conversation.

Hicks said Calley, the only soldier so far convicted in the My Lai massacre, told him he led a platoon into the South Vietnamese village and "the people all came out and started to cheer."

Calley told him the cheers subsided, he said, when the American troops opened fire. Hicks said Calley related the experience "like a war story — like he was bragging, so to speak."

Calley told him Medina was with another platoon and was not in My Lai during the assault. Hicks said, and when the captain learned of the killings "he was certainly surprised."

Hicks, stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga., testified with the jury absent after the prosecution objected that his statements were hearsay. Medina's lawyer, F. Lee Bailey, countered that Hicks' testimony would be the best evidence available since Calley has refused to testify.

McGovern Trapped Inside Saigon Church

©The New York Times

Saigon —Sen. George S. McGovern, the antiwar Democratic presidential hopeful, was briefly trapped inside a Roman Catholic church school building Tuesday evening, while a mob outside burned several vehicles and threw rocks and firebrands at the building and protested the meeting the senator was attending.

Neither he nor his staff for the 20 antiwar Vietnamese who had gathered inside the building were injured.

McGovern, who is in Vietnam on a three-day tour, said he did not know if he was the focus of the attack. But anti-government politicians Tuesday night accused the government of having fomented it in order to scare the senator and to express its displeasure with his visit.

The identity of the mob was unclear. It appeared on the surface to be conservative Catholics protesting the use of the church building for the meeting of persons they regarded as leftwingers

Senator Rescued

American military policemen and embassy security personnel rescued the senator after he had been trapped for about 20 minutes inside a school building attached to the Redemptionist Catholic Church, where he was attending a meeting of the Committee To Reform Prisons in South Vietnam.

Although the senator said afterward that the meeting was concerned solely with prison reform, the Vietnamese priests, monks, nuns and students present were predominantly members of various antiwar and antigovernment groups as well

According to the senator and the three aides accompanying him, they had arrived at the church around 9:30 and had just begun the discussions when shouts went up beyond the churchyard in the street outside.

Minutes later, those present said, a firebrand was thrown toward the building, without doing any damage.

The mob came inside the churchyard, and the senator's group barricaded themselves inside the darkened school building. Gordon Weil, McGovern's administrative assistant, called three times to the American embassy for help, he said, and finally contacted Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, who promised to send help.

Mob Eggs On Kids

Vietnamese onlookers said the small bus parked outside the building was set afire by young children encouraged by the shouting mob. The children pushed several motorbikes up against the burning bus, and they also caught fire, eyewitnesses said

McGovern press aide Frank Mankiewicz's description of the mob as "Catholic" was borne out by eyewitnesses, who said the demonstrators were shouting: "Bring out the priest and send him to the archbishop for trial!" and "No political meetings in the church!"

Vietnamese fire engines arrived shortly before 10 p.m. to extinguish the bus and motorbikes fires and the mob dispersed as quickly as it had formed. The South Vietnamese police arrived shortly afterward, followed closely by three American military police vehicles and a black embassy sedan with American plainclothes security officers

No arrests were made.

Israel Designs Own Warplane

Tel Aviv — Israel has designed and is in the process of building three prototypes of a new jet fighter-bomber, well-placed sources in Tel Aviv said. In addition to the planes, many other defense programs such as an automatic rifle, a tank of advanced design, several missiles and other weapons projects have been pressed to achieve greater self-sufficiency in armaments, whatever the cost, in order to reduce dependence on the political changes of outside supply.

Hostages Said Shot

Attica, N.Y. — The official autopsies of the nine hostages killed during the rioting and subsequent siege of Attica Correctional Facility revealed that they died of firearms gunshot wounds, it was reported. (More on Page 1.) Reactions from the families of slain hostages to reports they died of bullet wounds ranged from angry disbelief to an accusation that authorities had risked lives in ordering the assault at the prison. And a "distinguished panel of impartial visitors" will be named to set that the constitutional rights of prisoners are respected during "this transitional period at the Attica Correctional Facility," Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller announced.

'71 Crop Output Record Likely Despite Drought

Nebraska News

By The Associated Press

Despite the drought of recent weeks, Nebraska appears to be recording the biggest crop production year in its history, government observers reported Tuesday.

The unprecedented output results from a combination of record high yields for small grain crops and larger acreages of corn and grain sorghum, according to the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

August drought reduced prospects for dryland corn, sorghum grain, soybeans and hay, the division noted. Nevertheless, the index of crop production is 27% above the 1967 base, and exceeds the previous high set in 1969 by eight points.

Based on Sept. 1 conditions, corn yields were estimated to average 87 bushels per acre, second highest of record, but because of high acreage, the total production of 476.8 million bushels would be the highest of record.

Grain sorghum yield estimates declined 19% for the month but total production of 153.1 million bushels, second largest sorghum crop in history, still is foreseen.

Notwithstanding the dry spell which began in late July, Nebraska's rainfall since the growing season began April 1 has exceeded normal in the northwest, north-central and southwest sections of the state.

North Platter Urges Boosting Aviation Fuel Tax To 5 Cents

North Platte (AP) — Chairman Rush Clarke of the North Platte Airport Authority said Nebraska's aviation fuel tax should be boosted to at least five cents per gallon. The tax presently is 2½ cents per gallon.

The higher tax, Clarke said, would give the State Aeronautics Commission enough funds to match local and federal funds for necessary airport improvements.

"If you raise the fuel tax to 10 cents a gallon, airlines will threaten to avoid Nebraska," Clarke said. "But the truth is they'll go where the traffic is."

Clarke made his comment at a hearing of the Legislative Council's tax study committee headed by state Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton.

Dan Lynch of Denver, Colo., a United Air Lines representative, said the federal government plans to take over maintenance and control of navigation facilities in several Nebraska communities in the next two years. "This would reduce the cost of operation of these facilities for the state," reducing the need for fuel tax revenues, he said.

Discussing the mobile homes tax problem, second of the four big items on the tax committee agenda, Supt. Glenn Sherman of the Hershey schools expressed fears that a mobile home court would move into Hershey and put a severe strain on the school budget three-fourths of which comes from local taxes. He noted that families with the railroad and trucking industries in North Platte need places to live.

"If they build a house that brings in taxes and kids," he said. "A trailer court brings in kids but not too many dollars."

Representatives of North Platte mobile home parks said they save the city money by providing their own garbage service, mail distribution, roads, sewers and water facilities.

R. F. Hunter, manager of one mobile home court, estimated the cost of development is about $2,700 per unit including land costs.

Omaha Woman Dies Following Traffic Accident

Omaha (AP) — Mrs. Ella Joseph, 68, of Omaha died at a hospital Tuesday three hours after she was struck by a car after leaving a church meeting.

Officers said Mrs. Joseph and two other women who had been at a meeting of the Lutheran Women of Omaha at St. Luke Lutheran Church had stopped at a nearby intersection.

Mrs. Della Cramer, secretary of the organization, said she got in her car and started to drive away, stopping at a stop sign. She started across the intersection when another car glanced off her auto, skidded sideways and struck the three women.

Mrs. Mildred Nickerson, 50, and Mrs. Clara Rehschuh were listed in critical condition.

The driver of the second car was identified as 51-year-old Mrs. Doris Carter. She was treated for minor injuries.

Nuclear Plant Work Halted

. . . 2nd Straight Day

Fort Calhoun (AP) — Pickets halted work at the Fort Calhoun nuclear plant for the second straight day Tuesday, but the reason could not be determined.

A spokesman for Peter Kiewit Sons Co., which is building the $150.3 million plant for the Omaha Public Power District, said his firm has been unable to reach officials of Local 83 of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders.

Other efforts to reach a spokesman for the union were unsuccessful.

The company spokesman said workers showed up at the plant site Tuesday but left when they saw the pickets. About 500 workers are affected.

Colleges Seek $16,272,537 Budget

By the Associated Press

Nebraska's four state colleges will ask the 1972 Legislature to approve a $16,272,537 budget for the fiscal year beginning next July 1, state college board executive officer James Todd said Tuesday.

The request, exclusive of auxiliary services funds, compares with a total approved budget of $14,573,101 for the current fiscal year.

From the tax-supported general fund, the colleges will ask for $9,765,409 for next year compared to a current allocation of $7,898,051 approved by the 1971 Legislature.

According to Todd's explanation, much of the general fund increase will be for cost of living salary increases of 5.96% for faculty and administrative personnel and a $300 annual raise for non-professional personnel.

Todd said he would submit the budget request Wednesday morning to the Department of Administrative Services which will review the figures.

OKd By Trustees

He explained the budget had been approved by the state college Board of Trustees. A capital construction budget is scheduled for board consideration and approval at the Sept. 24 board meeting.

Although Todd said the pay increases are 5.96%, they actually average out to about 5.2% since the increases are based on movement from a 1969-70 salary level to a 1970-71 level.

A new feature of the budget request this year, Todd said, will be an "enrollment contingency fund" for the board's central office.

According to Todd's explanation of the fund, the current appropriations for the colleges are based on enrollment projections at each of the four campuses. However, he said, actual enrollments differ from the projection, necessitating a budgetary change.

For the next year, the colleges will base their budgets on current enrollments with the "enrollment contingency fund" request of $129,000 to be used to take care of increases at a specific campus.

The requests for each campus call for $3.57 million to be spent at Chadron State, including $2.12 million general fund; $7.13 million at Kearney, including $4.22 million general fund; $1.82 million at Peru, including $1.22 million general fund; and $3.74 million at Wayne, including $2.18 million in general funds.

Other funds will come from cash funds, including tuition and service fees, federal funds, and revolving funds.

Rev. Merritt Miss Steffen

Humboldt — The Rev. Ward E. Merritt of Humboldt and Mary Steffen, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Steffen, rural Humboldt, were crowned king and queen of the Richardson County Fair here Tuesday night by Dr. E. F. Frolik, dean of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

The Rev. Merritt, pastor, businessman and civic leader, is a lifetime resident of southeast Nebraska. Born in Nemaha in 1913, he attended Peru State College and was ordained by the Christian Church in 1934. He was called to serve the Verdon Christian Church in 1937 and has been pastor there since. He also serves as pastor of the Brownville Christian, Shubert Christian and Barada United Methodist churches.

He is also a long-time Humboldt businessman. The Rev. and Mrs. Merritt operate Merritt's Discount Center and Merritt's Flower Shop. He serves the community as city councilman and president of the Chamber of Commerce, and is an Odd Fellow and a Mason.

2-Car Crash Kills Pastor

Hampton — Funeral services for the Rev. William Schildbach, 37, killed in a two-car crash Monday near Sutton, will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at St. Peter's Lutheran Church in Hampton. The Rev. Mr. Schildbach had served as pastor of this church since March, 1970.

Clay County Sheriff Lloyd Pontine said the accident occurred on a county road one mile west and three miles north of Sutton. The minister's northbound auto collided with an eastbound car driven by Paul Sedersten, 20, of Sutton, who escaped injury, the sheriff said.

A native of Wisconsin, the Rev. Mr. Schildbach was graduated from Concordia High School and College at Milwaukee and from Concordia Seminary at St. Louis. Before coming to Hampton, he served churches in Quincy and Golden, Ill.

Surviving are his wife, Arlene; sons, William, Marcus, Joel, Jonathan and Nathanael; daughter, Marlena, all at home; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Schildbach, brother, Karl, and sister, Mrs. Erika Blindauer, all of Sheboygan, Wis.

Burial will also be at Hampton.

'71 Crop Output Record Likely Despite Drought

Nebraska News

By The Associated Press

Despite the drought of recent weeks, Nebraska appears to be recording the biggest crop production year in its history, government observers reported Tuesday.

The unprecedented output results from a combination of record high yields for small grain crops and larger acreages of corn and grain sorghum, according to the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

August drought reduced prospects for dryland corn, sorghum grain, soybeans and hay, the division noted. Nevertheless, the index of crop production is 27% above the 1967 base, and exceeds the previous high set in 1969 by eight points.

Based on Sept. 1 conditions, corn yields were estimated to average 87 bushels per acre, second highest of record, but because of high acreage, the total production of 476.8 million bushels would be the highest of record.

Grain sorghum yield estimates declined 19% for the month but total production of 153.1 million bushels, second largest sorghum crop in history, still is foreseen.

Notwithstanding the dry spell which began in late July, Nebraska's rainfall since the growing season began April 1 has exceeded normal in the northwest, north-central and southwest sections of the state.

North Platter Urges Boosting Aviation Fuel Tax To 5 Cents

North Platte (AP) — Chairman Rush Clarke of the North Platte Airport Authority said Nebraska's aviation fuel tax should be boosted to at least five cents per gallon. The tax presently is 2½ cents per gallon.

The higher tax, Clarke said, would give the State Aeronautics Commission enough funds to match local and federal funds for necessary airport improvements.

"If you raise the fuel tax to 10 cents a gallon, airlines will threaten to avoid Nebraska," Clarke said. "But the truth is they'll go where the traffic is."

Clarke made his comment at a hearing of the Legislative Council's tax study committee headed by state Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton.

Dan Lynch of Denver, Colo., a United Air Lines representative, said the federal government plans to take over maintenance and control of navigation facilities in several Nebraska communities in the next two years. "This would reduce the cost of operation of these facilities for the state," reducing the need for fuel tax revenues, he said.

Discussing the mobile homes tax problem, second of the four big items on the tax committee agenda, Supt. Glenn Sherman of the Hershey schools expressed fears that a mobile home court would move into Hershey and put a severe strain on the school budget three-fourths of which comes from local taxes. He noted that families with the railroad and trucking industries in North Platte need places to live.

"If they build a house that brings in taxes and kids," he said. "A trailer court brings in kids but not too many dollars."

Representatives of North Platte mobile home parks said they save the city money by providing their own garbage service, mail distribution, roads, sewers and water facilities.

R. F. Hunter, manager of one mobile home court, estimated the cost of development is about $2,700 per unit including land costs.

Omaha Woman Dies Following Traffic Accident

Omaha (AP) — Mrs. Ella Joseph, 68, of Omaha died at a hospital Tuesday three hours after she was struck by a car after leaving a church meeting.

Officers said Mrs. Joseph and two other women who had been at a meeting of the Lutheran Women of Omaha at St. Luke Lutheran Church had stopped at a nearby intersection.

Mrs. Della Cramer, secretary of the organization, said she got in her car and started to drive away, stopping at a stop sign. She started across the intersection when another car glanced off her auto, skidded sideways and struck the three women.

Mrs. Mildred Nickerson, 60, and Mrs. Clara Rehschuh were listed in critical condition.

The driver of the second car was identified as 51-year-old Mrs. Doris Carter. She was treated for minor injuries.

EVENTS IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The flames have hardly died down from last year's state budget fires before a new round of struggles is upon us. First into the limelight is the University of Nebraska, one of the largest agencies of state government and a big drain upon the taxpayers.

When considering the drain, however, taxpayers are reminded to remember the benefits—thousands of young people given an education for their future. We mention the fact that the university is a big spender simply because it is and that is why it is so important.

This week, the Board of Regents has adopted a proposed 1971-72 budget of $87,106,502, up $8,987,184 or 11.1 per cent from the current year's $78,119,318. For the significant part of that budget, one needs to turn to the general fund figure, that part of university operations supported by the state sales and income tax.

In the general fund, the regents are asking for a hike of $6,860,566 or 15.5 per cent. That would put the total general fund request at slightly more than $50 million as compared to some $43 million sought last year.

The $43 million is about $3 million more than Gov. James J. Exon recommended for both 1970-71 and 1971-72. These figures tell you where the battle will be fought his year if such a battle is in the offing.

The big question is whether the governor and the Legislature will go for the general fund increase as well as an additional nearly $16 million in capital expenditures improvements. The University is requesting substantially less than it had asked for last year for the coming year.

However, the institution still is asking for a substantial hike in terms of what it received from the governor and lawmakers last year. We have no idea how Governor Exon and the university will come out on the 1971-72 figures.

To date, the governor has said that all agencies of state government are to stick with a continuation budget. That means they would have small increase, at best, to account for essential increases in the cost of running their departments.

About half of the proposed university increase might be attributed to maintaining things as they are, considering salary increases as still a matter of maintaining the current situation. This means that Nebraska does plan to make some progress.

NU President D. B. Varner has said as much: "It (the budget) will permit the university to begin to move" toward the goal of relative equality with the best of the Big Eight schools. It is not as high a budget as Varner might like if he had his own way about things.

In the months since the budget consideration of early 1971, the governor and Varner have sought to close the financial gap that existed between them. Both have sought to recognize the problems and needs of the other and speak as one in behalf of a university with a standard of excellence.

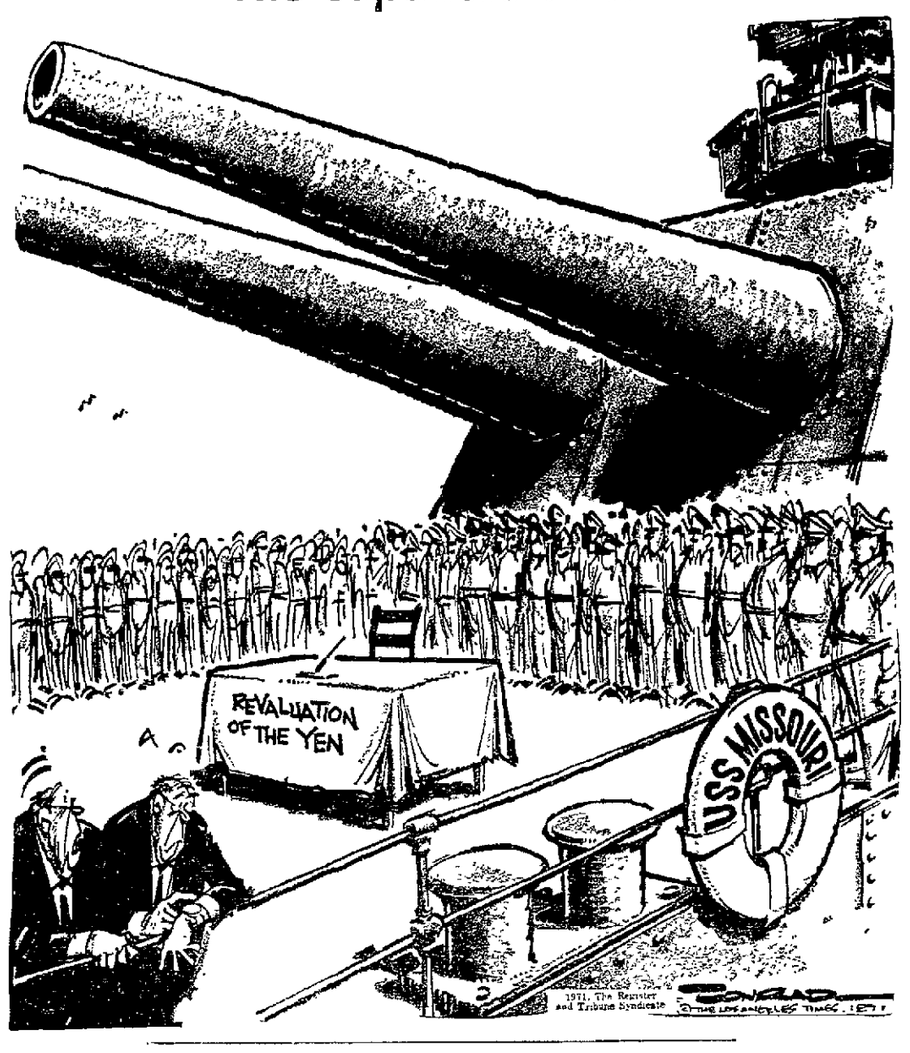
It is one thing, however, to speak of excellence and another to achieve it. One big problem is that no two people agree on what constitutes excellence.

Whether the regents' budget is the same standard of excellence as that wanted by the governor and the Legislature remains to be seen. On the surface, it would appear that the regents and President Varner have done a good job of trying to hold their request to the minimum commensurate with the kind of high standards to which we should aspire.

The hope now is that the past year has provided all concerned with a better understanding of university needs and desires to the point where more harmony can prevail at all levels of decision-making. Further, one hopes that, at those same levels, there is for 1971-72 a better balancing of needs and ability to pay than was the case for the current fiscal year.

The past year brought about many hard feelings and many thoughts of disasters that never quite materialized. But the University of Nebraska cannot sit still; it will either progress or slip backward and the 1971-72 budget will be a telling point of which way it is to go.

'I Wonder What's Holding Up The Japanese . . .?'



Time For Hindsight

Second-guessers are having a field day in the aftermath of the New York prison riot and its suppression by law officers. As the death toll rises, a coalition of critics including political activists, Black Panthers, radical lawyers, academic penologists and clergymen denounce the decision to end the prisoner rebellion by force as nothing more than a political power play designed to polish Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's law and order image.

"Officials never seem to learn," said lawyer William Kunstler, "that patience is a virtue and, in this case, would have been a life saver . . . there would have been room for negotiations (with the prisoners) if it took six months, or a year." But if Kunstler, like other critics of the state's action, appears to be a peaceful, reasonable man, he is betrayed by the bitterness of other statements—"the My Lai in Attica" and, "they may have been convicts, but they were infinitely more decent than the man who was elected governor of this state"—which earn an immediate disposal in the garbage can.

It takes a long stretch of the imagination to believe that Gov. Rockefeller and prison officials would be so callous and cavalier as to sacrifice the hostages and slaughter prisoners to shore up their popularity with a hard-nosed public. We think, rather, that a great deal of thought, soul-searching and agony went into the decision to break the insurrection. It probably came down to a belief that more of the hostages' lives would be saved by ending the riot than prolonging it.

"But how could you know?" ask the advocates of endless negotiations. Well, hard decisions are not always accountable to the future. They are sometimes gambles taken for a principle.

People should not be blinded by the argument that prisons today are filled with nice fellows who happen to be there only because they are black, or Puerto Rican or politically to the left. Many of those who conspire to riot in the nation's prisons have become convinced that there is no wrong. And knowing no wrong, they have to be dealt with accordingly.

Tax Petition Rejected

Nebraska Secretary of State Allen Beermann Tuesday again rejected, apparently temporarily, a petition attempt by Gov. J. J. Exon and other state Democrats to abolish the sales tax on food.

According to an opinion supplied Beermann by the State Justice Department, Exon's petition apparently does not violate the terms of a statue passed by the 1969 Legislature which prohibits the secretary of state from accepting petition initiatives dealing with revenue matters. The attorney general said, however, that the petition legally does not meet constitutional requirements pertaining to the process of enacting law.

Allowing that he would accept a revised version of the petition, Beermann said, "I think their wishes can be translated into a legal petition form."

But he further said that "neither the attorney general nor I can point out what the deficiencies are because that would be giving legal advice to private citizens," noting that even though Exon is governor, he is acting as a private citizen in the petition matter.

To be sure, Exon, private citizen or governor, will have the legal resources available to draft a proper and acceptable initiative petition on abolishing the sales tax on food. What we object to is that the state offices involved want to play guessing games.

The secretary of state and the attorney general, are, so to speak, servants of the private citizen. It would seem that as a practical matter, a private citizen who files an improper petition with the secretary of state should be told by that office where the legal difficulties lie.

Import Surcharge Deemed 'Beggar Thy Neighbor' Tool

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's imposition of a 10 per cent surcharge on imports has become a bone in the throat of America's principal trading partners. Before the surcharge is ended, it may become more than a little annoying to American consumers, too.

In announcing his new economic policies on Aug. 15, Nixon emphasized twice that the import tax was a "temporary action" designed to make certain that American products would not be at a disadvantage because of unfair exchange rates. "When the unfair treatment is ended," he said, "the import tax will end as well."

The administration subsequently became vague on the terms for removal of the tax. The Japanese want the tax revoked in exchange for a fixed upward revalutation of the yen. But Assistant Secretary of State Philip Trezise reportedly told Japanese officials that the United States saw "no direct connection" between the two issues. Other U.S. officials also remain coy about terms for removal.

Not even the closing of the gold window caused as much consternation among foreign nations as did the import surcharge. At a special meeting of the GATT in Geneva on Aug. 24-25, a spokesman for the Commission of the European Communities challenged the appropriateness as well as the legality of the trade measure. Ralf Dahrendorf warned that if the surtax were to be maintained beyond a very short term, it would be considered as evidence of a U.S. policy of "beggar thy neighbor."

In the eyes of America's European trading partners, the import surcharge reverses the process of trade liberalization begun 20 years ago and strengthened by the Kennedy Round, just as the fifth and final phase of the Kennedy Round cuts approaches. Washington's 77 partners in the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade cannot afford, however, to adopt a holier-than-thou tone. One international official says: "GATT is a church with a congregation of sinners."

GATT has tolerated the resort to a surtax on several occasions, including Britain's extra 15 per cent levy on imports in 1964. But the impact of trade barriers erected by Britain was small potatoes compared to that stemming from U.S. restraints. The fear is that if the U.S. surcharge is allowed to stand for any length of time, the entire trade edifice built up since the end of World War II could collapse and set off a destructive sequence of retaliatory actions.

Combined with the de facto devaluation of the dollar, the import surcharge has inflationary implications for American consumers. The Sun of London noted, "Mr. Nixon reassured Americans that the dollars in their billfolds have not been devalued — unless they want to buy things from outside, like English cars, Scotch whiskey, Welsh wool, or anything that we, and the rest of the world, want to sell them."

A recent poll showed seven out of 10 Americans had a positive reaction to the import surcharge. It is recalled that the Smoot-Hawley protective tariff of 1930 also was greeted with approval by the public and the stock market. But that tariff, in the opinion of many historians, caused a collapse of world trade and deepened the Great Depression. President Nixon has a virtual blank check to continue the import surcharge without congressional approval for as long as he things necessary — and he is clearly in no hurry to abandon it.

IRS Eases Prosecution On 'Brother-Sister' Deals; Shoe Industry Especially Appears The Beneficiary

WASHINGTON — The Internal Revenue Service has secretly granted the shoe industry a $15,845,538 tax break, and it looks as if other industries will be let in on the windfall.

The cost out of the pockets of the remaining taxpayers is expected to surpass $100 million.

Internal Revenue's generosity has taken the form of a strange suspension of prosecutions against shoe merchants. This was ordered by Assistant Commissioner D. W. Bacon in a series of confidential wires and memos.

The public was supposed to be kept in the dark about the official sellout. But we have dug out incriminating memos which show 1,897 cases have been secretly suspended. These involve an estimated $15,845,538 which the Treasury will now lose in taxes.

Not even counted are the tens of thousands of dollars spent by IRS task forces to develop the cases.

As with most tax matters, the story is complicated. For years, many shoe retailers, restaurant chains, finance companies, grocery chains, hotel firms and other businesses have broken their operations into several "separate" corporations to reduce their tax rate.

To help small companies, the IRS levies a low 22 per cent tax on the first $25,000 in profits. Thereafter, the tax goes up to 48 per cent.

If, say, a company with $100,000 in profits paid honest taxes, the government would collect $41,500. But if the company split into four corporations, each with $25,000 in profits, the tax would be only $22,000.

The law also allows companies to accumulate earnings up to $100,000 with no questions asked. A splintered company, therefore, could pile up millions in earnings without paying the special taxes on accumulations over $100,000.

A few years ago, IRS task forces began to crack down on companies that had divided up their corporate structure to dodge taxes. A few of these "brother-sister" deals, as they're called on Wall Street, were successfully prosecuted.

For instance, Marc's Big Boy-Prospect, Inc., a Wisconsin firm, was nailed in a civil case along with its sister companies. Although the decision has been appealed, the task forces were encouraged to prosecute other companies that used brother-sister arrangements as a subterfuge to avoid taxes.

Then out of IRS headquarters, on January 21, 1971, came confidential telex messages to district directors halting any further action against splintered shoe companies. The messages were signed by Bacon, as compliance head, who ordered tersely that "regardless of method of operation and organizational structure, (the shoe cases) should be suspended."

Bacon also demanded data from the IRS field men "on other retail merchandising or service type cases involving these same issues." The implication was that other industries might be given the same favored treatment.

Still another message, this one stamped "Urgent Urgent" and "For Official Use Only," was issued on April 7. This set forth detailed paperwork and red tape that agents would have to submit to Washington if they went ahead with brother-sister prosecutions outside the shoe industry. The suspension was emphasized again in another confidential decree that went out to the field on April 30.

The effect, of course, was to discourage any such prosecutions. Thus, not only were all the shoe companies let off the hook, but obstacles were raised to hamstring other prosecutions.

Diligent field agents, meanwhile, had examined a mountain of 6,895 tax forms in their search for brother-sister tax deals. Now they have started to pigeonhole all their work, perhaps for good, even as President Nixon urges the taxpayers at large to tighten their belts.

Footnote: IRS headquarters, in response to our inquiries, explained that the shoe company prosecutions had been suspended so guidelines could be laid down. The suspension "does not mean the ball game is over," said a spokesman. This official explanation strikes us as balderdash, since the IRS has had since 1968 to set guidelines. The spokesman explained the secrecy by claiming the memos were "internal" and, therefore, not available to the taxpayers who ultimately must pick up the bill.

The Army has laid out nearly $100,000 to buy facsimile editions of the Stars and Stripes from 1918 to 1919 and of "Yank," the World War II Army weekly.

The old publications often had a vigor that the harshly censored Stars and Stripes of today lacks — and there is no doubt of their historical value.

But, astonishingly, instead of just having the sets at selected Army libraries, the facsimiles, sold by the New York Times, are being distributed to 321 different posts, camps and stations around the world.

The purchase was made even as Army librarians are grumbling that Pentagon cutbacks already have ruined their policy of giving the troops new non-fiction and fiction releases.

The Nixon Girls

I wondered how the big publicity stunt of Julie Eisenhower's "earning" a salary, living "poor" and requiring a squad of Secret Service men would finish! A broken toe, no less.

My mother managed a home and family while recovering from a broken toe, but she couldn't run home to Ma and Pa and let the taxpayers keep them.

It is just as well, perhaps. A teacher who wants to teach children and not publicize the family may now get her job.

Will some money be saved, or will a group of them have to park outside her door to wait on her?

Tricia Nixon's living on her husband's $60-a-week job is the big laugh. That wouldn't even pay the light bill where she lives! Like all the rest of them, the taxpayers are keeping them, as we do the rest of the new royalty. We keep all the Eisenhowers (Mamie, too) and David and Julie. None of them ever worked for a living, or could.

Child Care

Lincoln, Neb.

It is obvious that Judge Albert Maust of Falls City does not know the environment in which he has placed a five-year-old boy. It is my opinion that no judge or welfare worker should be allowed to place a child at Whitehall unless he has spent at least six months in residency himself.

This is no reflection on Whitehall employes; it is a fact of life. Whitehall is not a home. It is a large complex with all the material advantages but none of the stability of a family. It has first of all two sets of house parents, a medical worker, a school worker and a case worker, all of whom are vying for the child's supervision. It is set up to simulate a home environment but fails.

Can a judge really think Whitehall is better than loving grandparents? Does he think a divorced parent, insisting on visiting when the other parent has custody and is remarried, is always doing the best thing for his child? Does a judge have the right to say: "You didn't visit, therefore you didn't care, therefore you cannot accept this responsibility now"?

A new home concept should be developed and has been suggested before. A more typical, normal home would be house parents who live in homes scattered throughout the city or state. Children would learn to go to a doctor when necessary, be cared for by parents when ill, shop with parents to buy groceries, pay utility bills, etc. They would be one family in a neighborhood and subject to all the laws that other children are subjected to. It costs no less than $300 per month per child in an institution; surely this money could be spent for more normalcy and adequate care.

Even this should be for limited use. There must be a better way. Would it not be more practical to work within the family, aiding, supervising, teaching the family to stay together?

I am not advocating leaving children in homes to be abused or underfed, without care and attention. I am advocating keeping families together with monetary aid, supervision, educating, using as a last resort having an individual child away from his family, friends, and cultural heritage.

Indian Series

York, Neb.

Thanks and congratulations for the publication of "Bury My Heart at Wounded Knee" and for the series on Indians in northwest Nebraska.

One of my grandfathers, after service in the Civil War, engaged in freighting between the Missouri and Columbia Rivers, and became well acquainted with some Indians of the plains and intermountain area. As he was an excellent raconteur, I spent many happy hours listening to accounts of his experiences.

Two of his observations about Indians were profoundly impressive. He said that the wickedest statement ever made is: "The only good Indian is a dead Indian." He believed that Roman Nose, the Cheyenne, was superior to any other man he had ever known, regardless of color.

I hope The Star follows these publications with more of the interesting and pertinent information about Indians.

New Center, Oasis In Cultural Desert

WASHINGTON — This capital has just been through a Kulturkampf that left behind bruised egos and rancorous feelings and yet with all the uproar there was a sense of moving into a new age. The occasion was the formal opening of the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts with three dedicatory performances.

Both with the huge marble center and with the premier presentation, Leonard Bernstein's Mass, it was not hard to find fault and the professionals in this department were quick to rush into the breach. The miracle seemed, however, that with all the pulling and hauling from so many different directions, the center had actually come into being.

☆ ☆ ☆

As first signed into law by President Dwight D. Eisnehower, in 1958, the National Cultural Center was to be built with voluntary contributions. This didn't work. Early in 1964, following the assassination of John F. Kennedy, his successor, Lyndon Johnson, rushed through bipartisan legislation calling for dedication of the center as a memorial to the murdered president and providing $15.5 million in federal money to be matched by private giving.

Two years ago President Nixon got through legislation providing an additional $7.5 million. The site on the Potomac River had been an initial contribution by Congress.

From the beginning, the going has been tough. In a survival of the Puritan Ethic, many members of Congress have felt it was immoral to spend the taxpayers' money on the arts. If people wanted to hear opera and orchestral concert, let them pay for it.

This makes evident the serious problem ahead for the huge $76 million center. If it is to fulfill its function and make music and theater available, not just to a few rich opera lovers, but to a broader public, there must be a generous annual subsidy which can come only from Congress. While without such a subsidy the concert halls may be filled, the vision of a center that would encourage the experimental, the new, and the untried will not come to life.

Every other Western nation has a long-established tradition of public support for the arts. Without government subsidies, such costly entertainment as opera could scarcely survive with any hope of a high standard of excellence and particularly in light of worldwide inflation. The contrast with the United States, rated the richest nation, is striking.

Austria has a state budget for music and theater equivalent to $3 per capita. In addition, provincial governments contribute to the arts. Granted that this is in part a practical matter, the superb Vienna State Opera and the Salzburg Musical Festivals being conspicuous tourism attractions. Nevertheless it is a national tradition that makes available to all income levels the best in theater and music

Finland with a population of 4,700,000 has a national opera and several subsidized theatrical companies with a remarkable standard of excellence. State and local community aid to the performing arts is about $1 per capita.

After the cloud of controversy subsides, the important fact remains — the center is in being with facilities for opera and ballet long needed in the cultural desert.

Among the guests coming from abroad for the opening of the center was Austria's Minister of Education and Arts Leopold Graz. With him was the new director of the Vienna State Opera, Rudolph Sarusjeger. One objective was to negotiate an appearance of the Vienna opera for the sason of 1973. This has hitherto been considered all but impossible because of the union demands to pay an orchestra and singers who do not perform.

By including a variety of expenditures, many of them hardly relevant, the federal government in 1970 spent on the arts at the rate of 19 cents per capita. This was up from 1969 when the rate was 10 cents. The total spending figure of $39,505,000 includes $9,150,000 for the National Endowment for the Arts and $15 million for the Public Broadcasting Corporation.

That is a minuscule sum for an affluent people approaching the 200th year of nationhood. The Kennedy Center provides an excellent opportunity to make up for long indifference and neglect.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The flames have hardly died down from last year's state budget fires before a new round of struggles is upon us. First into the limelight is the University of Nebraska, one of the largest agencies of state government and a big drain upon the taxpayers.

When considering the drain, however, taxpayers are reminded to remember the benefits—thousands of young people given an education for their future. We mention the fact that the university is a big spender simply because it is and that is why it is so important.

This week, the Board of Regents has adopted a proposed 1971-72 budget of $87,106,502, up $8,987,184 or 11.1 per cent from the current year's $78,119,318. For the significant part of that budget, one needs to turn to the general fund figure, that part of university operations supported by the state sales and income tax.

In the general fund, the regents are asking for a hike of $6,860,566 or 15.5 per cent. That would put the total general fund request at slightly more than $50 million as compared to some $43 million sought last year.

The $43 million is about $3 million more than Gov. James J. Exon recommended for both 1970-71 and 1971-72. These figures tell you where the battle will be fought his year if such a battle is in the offing.

The big question is whether the governor and the Legislature will go for the general fund increase as well as an additional nearly $16 million in capital expenditures improvements. The University is requesting substantially less than it had asked for last year for the coming year.

However, the institution still is asking for a substantial hike in terms of what it received from the governor and lawmakers last year. We have no idea how Governor Exon and the university will come out on the 1971-72 figures.

To date, the governor has said that all agencies of state government are to stick with a continuation budget. That means they would have small increase, at best, to account for essential increases in the cost of running their departments.

About half of the proposed university increase might be attributed to maintaining things as they are, considering salary increases as still a matter of maintaining the current situation. This means that Nebraska does plan to make some progress.

NU President D. B. Varner has said as much: "It (the budget) will permit the university to begin to move" toward the goal of relative equality with the best of the Big Eight schools. It is not as high a budget as Varner might like if he had his own way about things.

In the months since the budget consideration of early 1971, the governor and Varner have sought to close the financial gap that existed between them. Both have sought to recognize the problems and needs of the other and speak as one in behalf of a university with a standard of excellence.

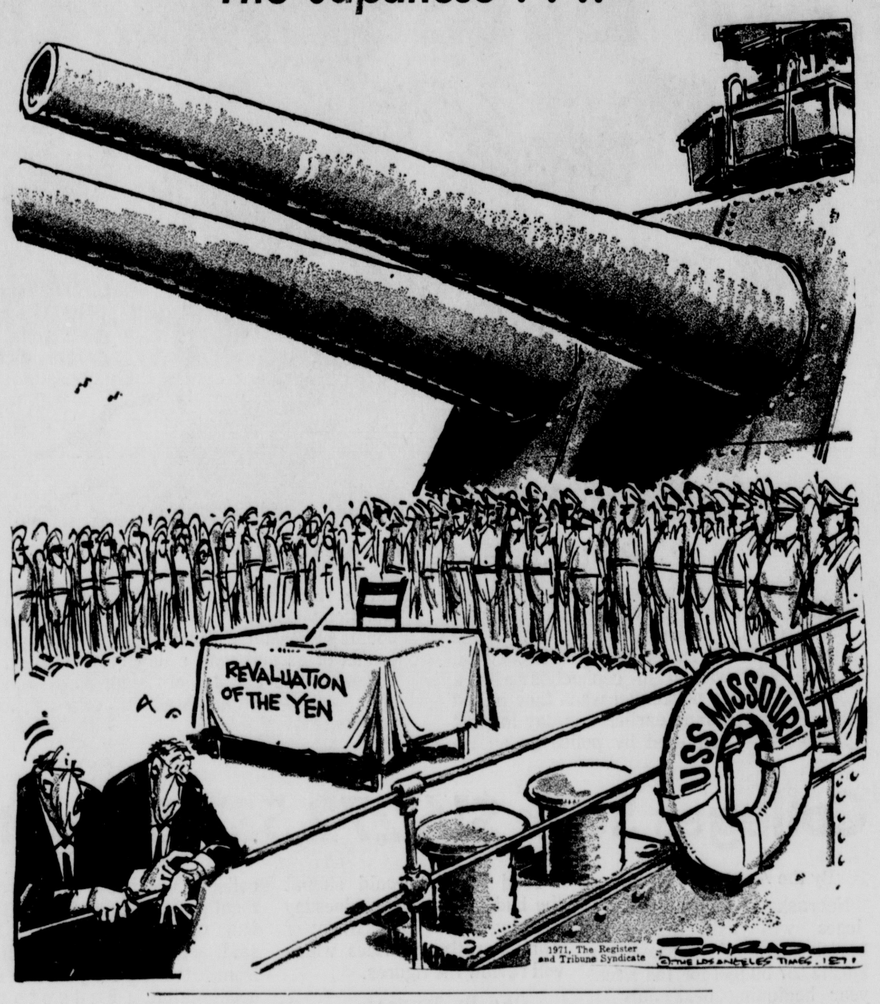
It is one thing, however, to speak of excellence and another to achieve it. One big problem is that no two people agree on what constitutes excellence.

Whether the regents' budget is the same standard of excellence as that wanted by the governor and the Legislature remains to be seen. On the surface, it would appear that the regents and President Varner have done a good job of trying to hold their request to the minimum commensurate with the kind of high standards to which we should aspire.

The hope now is that the past year has provided all concerned with a better understanding of university needs and desires to the point where more harmony can prevail at all levels of decision-making. Further, one hopes that, at those same levels, there is for 1971-72 a better balancing of needs and ability to pay than was the case for the current fiscal year.

The past year brought about many hard feelings and many thoughts of disasters that never quite materialized. But the University of Nebraska cannot sit still; it will either progress or slip backward and the 1971-72 budget will be a telling point of which way it is to go.

'I Wonder What's Holding Up The Japanese . . .?'



Time For Hindsight

Second-guessers are having a field day in the aftermath of the New York prison riot and its suppression by law officers. As the death toll rises, a coalition of critics including political activists, Black Panthers, radical lawyers, academic penologists and clergymen denounce the decision to end the prisoner rebellion by force as nothing more than a political power play designed to polish Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's law and order image.

"Officials never seem to learn," said lawyer William Kunstler, "that patience is a virtue and, in this case, would have been a life saver . . . there would have been room for negotiations (with the prisoners) if it took six months, or a year." But if Kunstler, like other critics of the state's action, appears to be a peaceful, reasonable man, he is betrayed by the bitterness of other statements—"the My Lai in Attica" and, "they may have been convicts, but they were infinitely more decent than the man who was elected governor of this state"—which earn an immediate disposal in the garbage can.

It takes a long stretch of the imagination to believe that Gov. Rockefeller and prison officials would be so callous and cavalier as to sacrifice the hostages and slaughter prisoners to shore up their popularity with a hard-nosed public. We think, rather, that a great deal of thought, soul-searching and agony went into the decision to break the insurrection. It probably came down to a belief that more of the hostages' lives would be saved by ending the riot than prolonging it.

"But how could you know?" ask the advocates of endless negotiations. Well, hard decisions are not always accountable to the future. They are sometimes gambles taken for a principle.

People should not be blinded by the argument that prisons today are filled with nice fellows who happen to be there only because they are black, or Puerto Rican or politically to the left. Many of those who conspire to riot in the nation's prisons have become convinced that there is no wrong. And knowing no wrong, they have to be dealt with accordingly.

Tax Petition Rejected

Nebraska Secretary of State Allen Beermann Tuesday again rejected, apparently temporarily, a petition attempt by Gov. J. J. Exon and other state Democrats to abolish the sales tax on food.

According to an opinion supplied Beermann by the State Justice Department, Exon's petition apparently does not violate the terms of a statue passed by the 1969 Legislature which prohibits the secretary of state from accepting petition initiatives dealing with revenue matters. The attorney general said, however, that the petition legally does not meet constitutional requirements pertaining to the process of enacting law.

Allowing that he would accept a revised version of the petition, Beermann said, "I think their wishes can be translated into a legal petition form."

But he further said that "neither the attorney general nor I can point out what the deficiencies are because that would be giving legal advice to private citizens," noting that even though Exon is governor, he is acting as a private citizen in the petition matter.

To be sure, Exon, private citizen or governor, will have the legal resources available to draft a proper and acceptable initiative petition on abolishing the sales tax on food. What we object to is that the state offices involved want to play guessing games.

The secretary of state and the attorney general, are, so to speak, servants of the private citizen. It would seem that as a practical matter, a private citizen who files an improper petition with the secretary of state should be told by that office where the legal difficulties lie.

Import Surcharge Deemed 'Beggar Thy Neighbor' Tool

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's imposition of a 10 per cent surcharge on imports has become a bone in the throat of America's principal trading partners. Before the surcharge is ended, it may become more than a little annoying to American consumers, too.

In announcing his new economic policies on Aug. 15, Nixon emphasized twice that the import tax was a "temporary action" designed to make certain that American products would not be at a disadvantage because of unfair exchange rates. "When the unfair treatment is ended," he said, "the import tax will end as well."

The administration subsequently became vague on the terms for removal of the tax. The Japanese want the tax revoked in exchange for a fixed upward revalutation of the yen. But Assistant Secretary of State Philip Trezise reportedly told Japanese officials that the United States saw "no direct connection" between the two issues. Other U.S. officials also remain coy about terms for removal.

Not even the closing of the gold window caused as much consternation among foreign nations as did the import surcharge. At a special meeting of the GATT in Geneva on Aug. 24-25, a spokesman for the Commission of the European Communities challenged the appropriateness as well as the legality of the trade measure. Ralf Dahrendorf warned that if the surtax were to be maintained beyond a very short term, it would be considered as evidence of a U.S. policy of "beggar thy neighbor."

In the eyes of America's European trading partners, the import surcharge reverses the process of trade liberalization begun 20 years ago and strengthened by the Kennedy Round, just as the fifth and final phase of the Kennedy Round cuts approaches. Washington's 77 partners in the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade cannot afford, however, to adopt a holier-than-thou tone. One international official says: "GATT is a church with a congregation of sinners."

GATT has tolerated the resort to a surtax on several occasions, including Britain's extra 15 per cent levy on imports in 1964. But the impact of trade barriers erected by Britain was small potatoes compared to that stemming from U.S. restraints. The fear is that if the U.S. surcharge is allowed to stand for any length of time, the entire trade edifice built up since the end of World War II could collapse and set off a destructive sequence of retaliatory actions.

Combined with the de facto devaluation of the dollar, the import surcharge has inflationary implications for American consumers. The Sun of London noted, "Mr. Nixon reassured Americans that the dollars in their billfolds have not been devalued — unless they want to buy things from outside, like English cars, Scotch whiskey, Welsh wool, or anything that we, and the rest of the world, want to sell them."

A recent poll showed seven out of 10 Americans had a positive reaction to the import surcharge. It is recalled that the Smoot-Hawley protective tariff of 1930 also was greeted with approval by the public and the stock market. But that tariff, in the opinion of many historians, caused a collapse of world trade and deepened the Great Depression. President Nixon has a virtual blank check to continue the import surcharge without congressional approval for as long as he things necessary — and he is clearly in no hurry to abandon it.

IRS Eases Prosecution On 'Brother-Sister' Deals; Shoe Industry Especially Appears The Beneficiary

WASHINGTON — The Internal Revenue Service has secretly granted the shoe industry a $15,845,538 tax break, and it looks as if other industries will be let in on the windfall.

The cost out of the pockets of the remaining taxpayers is expected to surpass $100 million.

Internal Revenue's generosity has taken the form of a strange suspension of prosecutions against shoe merchants. This was ordered by Assistant Commissioner D. W. Bacon in a series of confidential wires and memos.

The public was supposed to be kept in the dark about the official sellout. But we have dug out incriminating memos which show 1,897 cases have been secretly suspended. These involve an estimated $15,845,538 which the Treasury will now lose in taxes.

Not even counted are the tens of thousands of dollars spent by IRS task forces to develop the cases.

As with most tax matters, the story is complicated. For years, many shoe retailers, restaurant chains, finance companies, grocery chains, hotel firms and other businesses have broken their operations into several "separate" corporations to reduce their tax rate.

To help small companies, the IRS levies a low 22 per cent tax on the first $25,000 in profits. Thereafter, the tax goes up to 48 per cent.

If, say, a company with $100,000 in profits paid honest taxes, the government would collect $41,500. But if the company split into four corporations, each with $25,000 in profits, the tax would be only $22,000.

The law also allows companies to accumulate earnings up to $100,000 with no questions asked. A splintered company, therefore, could pile up millions in earnings without paying the special taxes on accumulations over $100,000.

A few years ago, IRS task forces began to crack down on companies that had divided up their corporate structure to dodge taxes. A few of these "brother-sister" deals, as they're called on Wall Street, were successfully prosecuted.

For instance, Marc's Big Boy-Prospect, Inc., a Wisconsin firm, was nailed in a civil case along with its sister companies. Although the decision has been appealed, the task forces were encouraged to prosecute other companies that used brother-sister arrangements as a subterfuge to avoid taxes.

Then out of IRS headquarters, on January 21, 1971, came confidential telex messages to district directors halting any further action against splintered shoe companies. The messages were signed by Bacon, as compliance head, who ordered tersely that "regardless of method of operation and organizational structure, (the shoe cases) should be suspended."

Bacon also demanded data from the IRS field men "on other retail merchandising or service type cases involving these same issues." The implication was that other industries might be given the same favored treatment.

Still another message, this one stamped "Urgent Urgent" and "For Official Use Only," was issued on April 7. This set forth detailed paperwork and red tape that agents would have to submit to Washington if they went ahead with brother-sister prosecutions outside the shoe industry. The suspension was emphasized again in another confidential decree that went out to the field on April 30.

The effect, of course, was to discourage any such prosecutions. Thus, not only were all the shoe companies let off the hook, but obstacles were raised to hamstring other prosecutions.

Diligent field agents, meanwhile, had examined a mountain of 6,895 tax forms in their search for brother-sister tax deals. Now they have started to pigeonhole all their work, perhaps for good, even as President Nixon urges the taxpayers at large to tighten their belts.

Footnote: IRS headquarters, in response to our inquiries, explained that the shoe company prosecutions had been suspended so guidelines could be laid down. The suspension "does not mean the ball game is over," said a spokesman. This official explanation strikes us as balderdash, since the IRS has had since 1968 to set guidelines. The spokesman explained the secrecy by claiming the memos were "internal" and, therefore, not available to the taxpayers who ultimately must pick up the bill.

The Army has laid out nearly $100,000 to buy facsimile editions of the Stars and Stripes from 1918 to 1919 and of "Yank," the World War II Army weekly.

The old publications often had a vigor that the harshly censored Stars and Stripes of today lacks — and there is no doubt of their historical value.

But, astonishingly, instead of just having the sets at selected Army libraries, the facsimiles, sold by the New York Times, are being distributed to 321 different posts, camps and stations around the world.

The purchase was made even as Army librarians are grumbling that Pentagon cutbacks already have ruined their policy of giving the troops new non-fiction and fiction releases.

SWCD Supports Resource Districts

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The Nebraska Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts (SWCD) Tuesday threw its support behind the plan for 24 Natural Resources Districts being proposed by the State Soil and Water Commission.

The approving action came on a 58-2 count of voting delegates during the windup of the association's 21st annual conference in Lincoln and generally endorsed the concept that district boundaries encompass the state's water basins.

Rejected was a resolution that would have urged the 1972 Legislature to adopt an earlier-proposed 33-district plan.

Under the Natural Resource District law, which is yet to be fully implemented, the assorted soil and water conservancy districts which have sprung up over the state, will be consolidated into the new resources districts.

Revenue Requested

The association also urged that revenues from the five-cent cigaret tax, enacted by the 1971 Legislature for construction of a State Office Building and University of Nebraska Fieldhouse, be programmed for a special land and water development fund after the proposed building program is completed.

It said the proposed fund, to be administered by the state commission with legislative approval of specific projects, would "insure continued development of the state's natural resources."

Herman Link of Ravenna was elected the association's president for a two-year term, succeeding Chester B. Ellis of Wymore.

Harold Sieck of Pleasant Dale was named president-elect and Ray Burke of Osceola and Bob Warrick of Meadow Grove were elected to the board of directors for three-year terms.

The association also re-elected James Cook of Millls, Wesley Herboldsheimer of Kimball, Robert M. Bell of Bellwood and Warren Patefield of Laurel to the state commission for two-year terms beginning Jan. 1.

'An Investment'

At an awards luncheon, State Economic Development Director Stanley Matzke Jr. said, "Conservation is not an expenditure—it's an investment."

He described the soil and water conservation movement as the "oldest ecology group," but urged its supporters "to listen to what others are saying" and "don't solidify against change."

"The positive attitudes which have evoked change for the betterment of our natural resources in the past can serve us in the future in our changing world," he said.

During the morning business session, the association also adopted these key resolutions:

—urged that the State Highway Department mow roadsides after July 15 because of potential fire hazards or give its permission for farmers to mow and harvest the hay after that date.

—urged that drainage plans of towns and villages be coordinated with drainage of rural areas through review by the local conservation district office

—requested the Bureau of Reclamtion to make a feasibility study for a dam on Stinking Water Creek near Palisade for soil erosion protection and additional irrigation water.

—encouraged the Legislature and Gov. J. James Exon to provide adequate support for water research and extension programs at the University of Nebraska.

Seminar Set On Obscenity Enforcement

An aide reported Tuesday Gov. J. J. Exon has called an Oct. 29 statewide seminar on obscenity law enforcement.

John L. Sullivan said the seminar, for county attorneys and law enforcement officers, would be held in Lincoln at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education.

It will be sponsored by the Nebraska County Attorneys Association and the governor's office.

Covered during the seminar will be present Nebraska laws on the subject, plus recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions.

He also said a major objective of the seminar would be to determine the seriousness of the problem in Nebraska.

Among those participating in the seminar will be Charles H. Keating, the founder of Citizens for Decent Literature (CDL), and a CDL staff member, Ray Gauer of Los Angeles, Calif.

1 Soldier Killed In No. Ireland

Belfast, Northern Ireland (UPI) — Violence erupted again in Northern Ireland Tuesday in volleys of sniper fire that cut down British soldiers. Troops battled back with rubber bullets and canisters of nausea gas.

By early evening, at least one British trooper had been killed and three others wounded, the army said. The dead man — the 19th soldier to die in Northern Ireland this year and 102nd victim of violence in the province in the past two years — was not identified immediately.

An army spokesman said the trooper was on guard duty in Londonderry's Bligh's Lane when he was shot. The vehicle taking him to a hospital had to divert its course to avoid sniper fire and the soldier died en route.

W. D. Newberry Named To Post

Gov. J. James Exon's office Tuesday announced the appointment of W. D. "Twist" Newberry of North Platte and Joe Lipton of Omaha to the State Highway Advisory Committee.

Also Thane Davis of Hyannis was reappointed to the committee for a six-year term.

Farm Union Head Says Talk, Listen

By DOMINICK COSTELLO
Farm Editor

Dawson — Elton Berck, state president of the Nebraska Farmers' Union, told delegates to the District Four convention in Dawson," We must learn to listen to the young people. We must learn to talk to them — not at them. They lack experience but they do have something to say."

Berck said, "I must have attended a thousand meetings where speakers called for greater farm income. The call comes from all walks of life."

Berck went on to say, "unless we have dedicated leadership among farmers, nothing will happen. There is apathy among farmers. The business of buildng better agriculture is not a spectator sport."

Berck blamed the departure of young leaders from the state for many of agriculture's problems. He said "since 1900, 40% of the people who left Nebraska were between 14 and 45 years of age.

"We have got to rebuild rural America to the point where our young people will be proud to be from places such as Dawson, Neb.," he said.

Berck's remarks were addressed directly to Dawson High School students who came to the meeting to hear Sen. Carl Curtis.

Curtis told the Farmers' Union members and the students that he welcomed the 18 year-old voters. "These people are the future. They are interested in ecology, in opportunity and in a better way of life. They ought to be — it's their future."

Curtis said, "the farmer is important because he produces new wealth. A lawyer or a stock broker shuffles paper around but doesn't produce anything."

He said, "new wealth comes from the mind, the farms and the forests. For instance, corn has to be harvested, processed, packaged, insured, financed, sold and transported, creating many jobs."

Curtis reminded the young people "there is a lot more right than wrong about America. Our liberties are still intact. The homeless can become a home-owner. You can criticize the president, the governor or the supreme court, and although you may not use it, our religious liberty is still here."

Curtis ended his speech by quoting from the national anthem. He said "we sing about the land of the free and the brave, but if we are no longer brave we will soon be no longer free."

Elected president of the district was Ray W. Weigand, Fairbury. The new vice-president is Lemhart Leners of Filley.

Mrs. Norbert Heller of Hebron was elected secretary-treasurer.

The fourth Farmers' union district includes Fillmore, Gage, Jefferson, Johnson, Nemaha, Otoe, Pawnee, Richardson, Saline and Thayer counties.

House Votes To Repeal Detention Camp Act

Washington (UPI) — The House voted Tuesday to repeal a 1950 law which allows the government to operate detention camps for suspected spies and saboteurs in time of national emergency.

Told that the bill created a real — even if unfounded — fear among some groups, members approved the repeal of the emergency detention act 356 to 49. They also approved language that would prohibit the government from imprisoning anyone, except under existing criminal laws, without an act of Congress

The legislation now goes to the Senate, which passed a similar measure late in 1969 but which failed to win House passage.

Before voting repeal, the House rejected, on a standing 68-22 vote, a proposal by Chairman Richard H. Ichord, D-Mo., of the Internal Security Committee to keep the detention authority but add some safeguards.

Rep. Spark M. Matsunaga, D-Hawaii, a Japanese-American who was chief sponsor of the repealer, said Ichord's substitute bill "says we need concentration camps. We associate concentration camps with Nazi Germany, with Mussolini, with Communists, but not with a democratic society."

The administration urged repeal of the act which was part of the internal security law President Nixon helped write as a House member during the Korean War.

Backers of repeal, including Matsunaga, pointed out repeatedly that 112,000 Japanese-Americans were rounded up in 1942 and sent to west coast detention camps where they were placed under armed guard.

Spokesmen for minority groups also cited this fact and said that since the 1968 big city riots, their constituents had expressed fear the 1950 law might be used to round them up, or other groups that held unpopular views.

The emergency detention provisions of the law were never invoked. Congress did appropriate $750,000 in 1952 and six detention camps were built around the nation. They were abandoned in 1957.

The act specified that in the event of war, invasion or insurrection in aid of a foreign enemy, the government could detain suspected potential saboteurs and spies.

Britain Reports Trade Surplus Of $163 Million

The New York Times

London — Britain reported Monday another strong trade performance in August with an exceptionally high surplus equivalent to $163 million. The surplus is the difference between the value of goods exported and goods imported.

Last month's surplus is the third in a row. It compares with the revised July surplus of $106 million and is the highest since last year's British dock strike distorted trade movements and produced freak record surplus of $338 million in July, 1970.

Non-Unanimous Jury Vote Can Convict, Bill Proposes

Washington (AP) — The Justice Department endorsed legislation Tuesday to allow juries to convict defendants without a unanimous vote. It was proposed along with plans to restrict defendants' legal maneuverings — suggestions aimed at recent Supreme Court rulings.

Another major suggestion was a measure aimed at banning appeals based on constitutional questions having no bearing on the defendant's guilt or innocence.

Asst. Atty. Gen. William H. Rehnquist, appearing before the Senate subcommittee on constitutional rights, suggested that a jury vote of 10 to 2 or 9 to 3 be considered enough for conviction.

The Supreme Court will hear arguments Oct. 19 on the use of nonunanimous votes in state criminal trials.

Modification Proposed

Rehnquist proposed also modifying all or part of the rule which now prevents the use against a criminal defendant of evidence which is found to have been obtained in violation of his constitutional rights.

He said the rules on habeas corpus should be changed to prevent appeals "which not only have nothing to do with the guilt or innocence of the defendant but nothing to do with the underlying fairness of the factfinding process by which he was found guilty."

He said the number of habeas corpus petitions filed annually had jumped from 500 only 20 years ago to almost 11,000 last year.

Rehnquist said the department's proposed legislation would permit defendants to appeal on grounds that their confession was forced by police, that juries were under mob domination and that they were not allowed counsel.

Ban Some Appeals

He said it would ban appeals based on claims of unlawful search and seizure or on claims that the defendant was not advised of his rights before confessing.

The proposed legislation took dead aim on the Supreme Court's Miranda vs. Arizona decision, which said confessions given to police are not admissible as evidence if the defendant is not advised before his confession of his right to remain silent and his right to a lawyer.

It also was aimed on an earlier high court decision, the Mapp case, in which the court barred the use of illegally seized evidence in state courts.

Modification Proposed

Rehnquist proposed also modifying all or part of the rule which now prevents the use against a criminal defendant of evidence which is found to have been obtained in violation of his constitutional rights.

He said the rules on habeas corpus should be changed to prevent appeals "which not only have nothing to do with the guilt or innocence of the defendant but nothing to do with the underlying fairness of the factfinding process by which he was found guilty."

He said the number of habeas corpus petitions filed annually had jumped from 500 only 20 years ago to almost 11,000 last year.

Rehnquist said the department's proposed legislation would permit defendants to appeal on grounds that their confession was forced by police, that juries were under mob domination and that they were not allowed counsel.

Ban Some Appeals

He said it would ban appeals based on claims of unlawful search and seizure or on claims that the defendant was not advised of his rights before confessing.

The proposed legislation took dead aim on the Supreme Court's Miranda vs. Arizona decision, which said confessions given to police are not admissible as evidence if the defendant is not advised before his confession of his right to remain silent and his right to a lawyer.

It also was aimed on an earlier high court decision, the Mapp case, in which the court barred the use of illegally seized evidence in state courts.

Technical College Board Wouldn't Oppose Expansion Plan

By MILAN WALL
Star Staff Writer

The Lincoln Technical College Board Tuesday said it believes the 1973 Legislature "would be in a better position" to finalize the state plan for technical community colleges than would the areas affected by the 1971 bill.

At the same time, the board said while it would not oppose expansion of the Lincoln Technical College area, it has no plans itself to seek expansion of the Lincoln area.

The statement came in a "tentative statement of position" adopted by the Lincoln Board of Education, sitting as the governing board of the Lincoln tech college.

The Lincoln board serves both the Lincoln school district and the tech college.

Relates to LB759

The position statement relates to LB759, a bill adopted by the 1971 Legislature, which set up eight technical community college areas in the state.

The bill provides that counties or portions of counties that are not now part of a tech college may join an area through popular vote, but it also says that any such areas not attached to a college area by 1973 will be assigned to one by the Legislature that convenes that year.

One of the eight areas is the present Lincoln area, which coincides with the Lincoln school district.

The board said the Lincoln area "meets the criteria of the new legislation" in "terms of tax base and potential clients."

"The board, therefore, prefaces its statement by indicating it has no expansion plans, design or need to encompass other areas and that it can operate an efficient and successful school under the present structure," the board said.

"On the other hand, the Lincoln Board of Education has consistently maintained that in a state system of technical colleges the Lincoln institution should serve a larger area and have a governing board separate" from the Lincoln school board, the statement continued.

The board said it still holds to that position and would not, therefore, "oppose the expansion of the Lincoln Technical College."

Any expansion, the board added, "should be sufficient enough in area to justify restructuring the governing board."

In Best Position

It said the board's "general" belief is that the 1973 Unicameral would be in the best position to assign uncommitted areas to tech college districts.

In other matters as the board organized under the new legislation, it chose Dr. Marvin Stewart as its representative on the State Technical Community College Board, which will meet for the first time Sept. 24 in Lincoln.

The board also heard that enrollment for the fall quarter indicates 88% of the student capacity in career-oriented courses in the college had been reached by Monday.

The enrollment figures, which Tech College Director James Lightbody said were "very encouraging," represent 65% of capacity in all the career courses, including a number that are not yet under way.

541 Enrolled

A total of 541 students, the board was told, have enrolled in health, business, technical and manpower programs.

In related matters, the board adopted a new tuition schedule which tech college officials said more nearly reflects actual costs and anticipated support from local, federal and state sources.

The new tuition rates will be $84 per quarter for Lincoln residents, $168 for out-of-district residents and $336 for outstate residents.

The rates would apply to all career courses except practical nursing, which has a uniform statewide fee of $300 per year.

The board also approved lease, at a rate of $13,000 a year, of a former trucking distribution center at 1309 No. 17th for use in a new program of mechanical technology.

Classes there will begin in November, Lightbody said.

Tourism In Bermuda Rises 3% For August

About 60 School Employes Eligible For Raises

The Lincoln Board of Education was told Tuesday that about 60 of the school district's employes will be eligible for raises under the most recent interpretations of the wage-price freeze.

Supt. John Prasch told the board at its regular meeting that "anybody who reported prior to Aug. 15 and would be paid on the new (salary) schedule" is eligible.

Prasch said in the Lincoln district that would mean only those few who work on a 220-day contract will be paid on the basis of the most recently negotiated schedule, while all others will be paid on the basis of the agreements reached in the spring of 1970.

Assistant Principals

The 50 or 60 employes who will get the raises, he said, include assistant principals and some clerical workers.

Under interpretation of wage-price freeze guidelines, Prasch explained, anyone is eligible for a raise who reported prior to Aug. 15 and was eligible for pay under a new schedule.

Not eligible, he said, would be employes who began work after Aug. 15 or 12-month employes, such as principals and top administrators.

Prasch said representatives of the Lincoln Education Association had agreed to that interpretation, and he said they also agreed that fringe benefit increases would be frozen until mid-November.

Last Year's Rates

Employes who became eligible for a raise because of added collegiate hours, Prasch said, will get last year's pay boost rates for that increase.

The most recent interpretations, he said, make clear that only individual employes who qualify will get their raises and that one employe's qualifying does not make all others eligible.

"I think it's more important than ever to identify the money involved and have it accounted for," Prasch said, in case of further changes in guidelines or litigation.

Funds Released

In other matters, Prasch said the State Department of Education was released to the Lincoln district $250,000 of the total $330,000 requested for funding programs under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

The funding has been the subject of considerable controversy since Roman Catholic educators in the state have launched a fight to see that federal guidelines are met.

"This is not a Lincoln, local or personal tproblem," said Prasch. "It's a national problem."

He said he believes the conflict between federal guidelines and the state constitution can only be resolved in the courts.

The school board also:

—heard it has at least two students coming to work in the district under the University of Nebraska's NOVA Program. Prasch said they will work in the Lincoln Learning Center and in the parent involvement aspect of federal programs for low-income families.

—approved hiring three additional staff members under funds granted by the Emergency Employment Act.

—was told NU's TTT steering committee has submitted a federal proposal for 1972-73 suggesting creation of an experimental school. Prasche said if approved, he would recommend making either McPhea or Elliott into that experimental school, with voluntary enrollment.

—heard that Lincoln High Principal William Bogar arranged for a car-load of male staff members to travel to out-of-town sports events in an effort to prevent a repeat of incidents such as the one Friday night in Hastings.

Humane Society To Acquire New Vehicle Despite Inflation

Despite the effects of inflation, the Lincoln Humane Society will get a new vehicle, it was decided at a Tuesday meeting of the organization's board of directors.

The vehicle approved for purchase was a 1972 Chevrolet "Suburban," according to Bernie Patton, director of the Humane Society.

"I was shocked when I went out to price these things," he said. "We haven't bought a new vehicle since 1966 and the prices have really gone up."

Patton said the Suburban, a station wagon body on a pickup truck chassis, will cost over $3.000, including a trade in. The number of vehicles belonging to the society will remain at five, Patton said.

Patton said he expects delivery of the Suburban in "one to two months."

The Lincoln Board of Education was told Tuesday that about 60 of the school district's employes will be eligible for raises under the most recent interpretations of the wage-price freeze.

Supt. John Prasch told the board at its regular meeting that "anybody who reported prior to Aug. 15 and would be paid on the new (salary) schedule" is eligible.

Prasch said in the Lincoln district that would mean only those few who work on a 220-day contract will be paid on the basis of the most recently negotiated schedule, while all others will be paid on the basis of the agreements reached in the spring of 1970.

Assistant Principals

The 50 or 60 employes who will get the raises, he said, include assistant principals and some clerical workers.

Under interpretation of wage-price freeze guidelines, Prasch explained, anyone is eligible for a raise who reported prior to Aug. 15 and was eligible for pay under a new schedule.

Not eligible, he said, would be employes who began work after Aug. 15 or 12-month employes, such as principals and top administrators.

Prasch said representatives of the Lincoln Education Association had agreed to that interpretation, and he said they also agreed that fringe benefit increases would be frozen until mid-November.

Last Year's Rates

Employes who became eligible for a raise because of added collegiate hours, Prasch said, will get last year's pay boost rates for that increase.

The most recent interpretations, he said, make clear that only individual employes who qualify will get their raises and that one employe's qualifying does not make all others eligible.

"I think it's more important than ever to identify the money involved and have it accounted for," Prasch said, in case of further changes in guidelines or litigation.

Funds Released

In other matters, Prasch said the State Department of Education was released to the Lincoln district $250,000 of the total $330,000 requested for funding programs under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

The funding has been the subject of considerable controversy since Roman Catholic educators in the state have launched a fight to see that federal guidelines are met.

"This is not a Lincoln, local or personal problem," said Prasch. "It's a national problem."

He said he believes the conflict between federal guidelines and the state constitution can only be resolved in the courts.

The school board also:

—heard it has at least two students coming to work in the district under the University of Nebraska's NOVA Program. Prasch said they will work in the Lincoln Learning Center and in the parent involvement aspect of federal programs for low-income families.

—approved hiring three additional staff members under funds granted by the Emergency Employment Act.

—was told NU's TTT steering committee has submitted a federal proposal for 1972-73 suggesting creation of an experimental school. Prasche said it approved, he would recommend making either McPhea or Elliott into that experimental school, with voluntary enrollment.

—heard that Lincoln High Principal William Bogar arranged for a car-load of male staff members to travel to out-of-town sports events in an effort to prevent a repeat of incidents such as the one Friday night in Hastings.

Humane Society To Acquire New Vehicle Despite Inflation

Despite the effects of inflation, the Lincoln Humane Society will get a new vehicle. It was decided at a Tuesday meeting of the organization's board of directors.

The vehicle approved for purchase was a 1972 Chevrolet "Suburban," according to Bernie Patton, director of the Humane Society.

"I was shocked when I went out to price these things," he said. "We haven't bought a new vehicle since 1966 and the prices have really gone up."

Patton said the Suburban, a station wagon body on a pickup truck chassis, will cost over $3,000, including a trade in. The number of vehicles belonging to the society will remain at five, Patton said.

Patton said he expects delivery of the Suburban in "one to two months."

Outdoor Sign Bill Studied By Committee Said Within Federal Standards

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

A bill now being considered by the Legislature's study committee on outdoor advertising apparently would bring Nebraska into compliance with federal highway beautification standards.

That was the word Tuesday from George McInturff of Washington, chief of the scenic enhancement division of the Federal Highway Administration.

But McInturff could offer the committee no assurance that the federal government will wait until the 1972 Legislature meets before it cuts off 10% of Nebraska's federal highway funding allocation as a penalty for failure to already have such a Billboard control act on the books.

Hearing Oct. 5

Secretary of Transportation John Volpe has set an Oct. 5 hearing date to give Nebraska an opportunity to show why the money should not be withheld.

Volpe is under considerable congressional pressure, however, to delay enforcement procedures until 1972 sessions of state legislatures have had a chance to act, McInturff acknowledged.

At stake for Nebraska is about $4 million, a figure which represents 10% of its 1973 federal highway construction funds.

In Compliance

The legislative draft now in the hands of the study committee "essentially does place Nebraska in compliance with the highway beautification act," McInturff said.

But before he could give the bill absolute approval, he noted, he would need to "review in detail" the final revised copy of the proposal.

State Engineer Thomas Doyle submitted new amendments to the committee Tuesday in an effort to meet all federal requirements.

Rural Areas

Under questioning by Sen. Eugene Mahoney of Omaha, McInturff agreed that "the main impact of the federal act is in rural areas."

Mahogeny has expressed concern over the growing number of highway signs appearing in Omaha commercial and industrial areas. Their regulation will remain in city hands even if the proposed bill is enacted.

The federal government is "not overly concerned nationally" by the prospect of misuse of city zoning powers, McInturff said, although it recognizes that "there will be some local abuses."

Much More Rigid

Omaha planning director Alden Aust assured the committee that his city's planning board recognizes the need for "much more rigid regulation" of billboards.

The proposed new bill would regulate billboards along Interstate and federal aid primary highways. That represents about 6,000 miles of roadway in Nebraska.

Removal of signs which would violate the act in Nebraska would cost about $8 million, McInturff estimated. The federal government would pay about $6 million of the total.

6-Year Period

But removal of signs would be spread out over a six-year period, he noted.

In other testimony, the committee heard the Nebraska Petroleum Council request legislative approval for brand name identification of food, fuel and lodging services on official highway signs at Interstate interchanges.

The companies involved would pay for their brand logo sign and the proposal would not conflict with federal beautification standards, Charles Chace of Lincoln said.

Students Move Mail Quicker

Baltimore (AP) —Baltimore Gas and Electric Co. has found a way to move the mail quicker wtihout licking a single stamp.

The firm hired college students this summer to hand deliver 30,000 utility bills daily to beat the cost of postage.

Lancaster Manor Engineer Released By County Board

Lancaster County Commissioners Tuesday in a motion without discussion voted 3-1 to "release" Lennie Kincheloe of his duties as chief maintenance engineer at Lancaster Manor.

Commissioner William Grossman, who with Commissioner Kenneth Bourne passed the motion to release Kincheloe, said that Kincheloe's work had been unsatisfactory and he was not able to handle his employes properly.

Commissioner Robert Colin, who voted against the so-called "release," said that he felt the action was unjustified.

He said that Kincheloe was "well qualified" and had been doing a "good job."

Grossman showed the press a collection of statements from persons including the former administrator of the home, Dan Nisly, who was relieved of his duties last December; present administrator Esther Davis, and head of Colonial Homes Rex Earl, which operates the nursing home for the county.

The letters and statements cited incidents when Kincheloe allegedly had failed to follow instructions or carry out orders and of dissention between him and his men.

Grossman said he didn't think the county should have to tolerate the lack of cooperation and incompetency, noting that he had been out to Lancaster Manor numerous times and not found Kincheloe anywhere around.

Colin said that the major problem out there was that nobody ever instructed Kincheloe or anyone else what they were supposed to do and they didn't know who their boss was.

"The whole operation out there needs an investigation," Colin said, adding that he has some information about Lancaster Manor that he intends to release "that I'm sure the taxpayers will be interested in."

Prison Officials See No Trouble In Nebraska

Federal authorities warned state prison officials to be alert for inmate rebellions in the wake of the uprisings at Attica, N.Y., but nothing beyond routine is being carried out at the Nebraska Penal Complex.

Warden Charles Wolff Jr. said officials there are "aware, concerned and looking," but that they expect no trouble.

In Detroit, Sheriff William Lucas said the FBI warned him that several inmates in the Wayne County Jail might try to seize hostages Monday.

As a result of the warning, Lucas ordered a cell-by-cell search of the jail and its 1,140 prisoners. The six-hour search turned up more than 150 small weapons.

HAND President Says OrganizationContinuing

The Clinton neighborhood organization — Home and Neighborhood Development (HAND) — will continue in operation as a loose-knit volunteer organization, its president Betty Doyle announced Tuesday at a press conference.

HAND has been federally funded during its existence through the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) as a project of the Better Lincoln Committee. Funding of the project ends Sept. 30.

The organization intends to remain intact despite the lack of staff workers to fight for the needs of Clinton residents, Mrs. Doyle stated.

"HAND does not intend to dissolve. It'll be a rough go without funds entirely, manned with hard-core volunteers," she said, adding that the executive board and anyone else interested will meet at homes of members.

Mrs. Doyle said that HAND also feels that "middle class people need to be involved with the low income minority in a more real way."

Issues that groups plans to focus on include:

—The Northeast Radial.
—University housing.
—Poor housing.
—The garbage and rat situation.
—Citizens' rights and where to go for help.
—Lack of storm sewers.
—Need for new low income housing and federally assisted code enforcement.
—Library and park service.

She said that the Northeast Radial has been a "bad influence on the morale of people" through the planned demolition of properties.

Mrs. Doyle said much of the activities undertaken by the HAND staff supposedly is to be handled now through the Lincoln Action Program.

An accomplishment since started two years ago she said has been the recognition by the city that the Clinton area exists.

"Clinton is getting service more than ever before. Both residents and city officials are at least communicating now," she said.

Mrs. Doyle said HAND has also helped people find housing and furniture, worked to keep the Clinton library open and helped get abstract park equipment installed and a day care center opened.

IT'S GOOD TO BE HOME!

Hector the alligator is about to savor a marshmallow from Paul Trier, a resident of Venice Gardens, Fla., after the beast recently completed a 140-mile journey through rivers and drainage ditches. After some residents of Lake LaGorce complained, Hector was taken away by the Game and Freshwater Fish Commission and released in the vicinity of Myakka State Park. "How he found his way here and how he remembered us after two years will always be a mystery to me," Trier says.

City Is In Complete Charge Of Bus Operations

The city will be on its own to run the local bus system effective Wednesday.

City Atty. Dick Wood said Tuesday that "National City Lines will be completely out of the picture" in the area of management assistance as of that date.

National City Lines had agreed to provide management assistance services at no cost to the city from July 16 to Sept. 15 as part of the city's contract to purchase the local bus company. On loan to the company during that time were the services of C. S. Douglas, regional vice president, and William Franklin, local superintendent. Franklin will go on the city payroll now in charge of bus maintenance operations.

Wood said that for practical purposes the city has been on its own since Aug. 1.

He said regarding the acquisition of the mini-buses that appraisals on the buses should be completed shortly. Wood said the city hopes to negotiate the purchase of the four buses once the appraisal is finished.

Before the City Personnel Board Wednesday will also be job classification proposls for bus company employes as well as the general manager.

The City Council must still act on an ordinance to formally establish the bus system as a division of the city finance department and a permanent advisory board. Action on that ordinance has been held up until a full council can be present because of dispute over certain provisions of the ordinance relating to the powers of the mayor and the council on appointments and removal.

Tabitha Home To Receive Portion Of Seacrest Estate

A substantial portion of the estate of the late Fred S. Seacrest, who died Sept. 8, was left to his surviving widow, Mildred Seacrest, according to provisions of a will filed for probate Tuesday in Lancaster County Court.

Mr. Seacrest, who retired last March as the president and director of the Journal-Star Publishing Co., also bequeathed 15% of his estate to Tabitha Home.

According to provisions of the will, the amount to be left to Tabitha was to be 15% of the total estate except stock owned by Mr. Seacrest in the State Journal Co. which "shall not be used to pay this bequest."

Mr. Seacrest stated in the will that the funds to be given Tabitha could be used by the board of directors of the home to promote the care of aged or young person residents in the home either by increasing the building facilities or equipment or for expenditures for maintenance.

The remainder of the estate, according to the will, will be set up in trusts for his widow and two children, Mark T. Seacrest and Jessie Ann Seacrest Southwick and to their children and grandchildren by right of representation.

Dr. Underwood Reports Lincoln In Midst Of 'Gonorrhea Explosion'

Lincoln is in the midst of a "gonorrhea explosion," Dr. George Underwood told members of the Lincoln-Lancaster County Health Board Tuesday night.

Dr. Underwood, Health Dept. director, said that 15 to 20 persons are being treated each week at the venereal disease clinics. The clinics are held at 1:30 p.m. Monday and Friday at the Health Dept. at 2200 St. Marys.

Dr. Underwood cited birth control pills as the number one cause for the tremendous increase in the incidence of gonorrhea in Lincoln, saying that people are no longer using other methods of contraception which also prevent the spread of disease.

Though gonorrhea is easily treated and in most cases needs only one massive dose of penicillin, he said the major problem is tracking down the carriers of the disease.

Dr. Underwood said that many of the people treated are repeaters and some of them don't seem to care if they contract the disease because it is so easily cured.

He said that once people are contacted they voluntarily come in for treatment but the police have had to be used in a few cases.

Dr. Underwood also reported on the proposed drug program saying that sessions have been held and that he expects them to greatly increase now that school is open.

At the moment, he said, they are gathering material to determine how extensive the drug problem is in Lincoln and compiling it into a report which will be ready in the early spring.

In other action Dr. Underwood gave the board the results of the investigation of the family which suffered food poisoning last week at the state fair.

He said the people who became ill had eaten ham salad sandwiches at a stand a short time before. He said the sandwiches they ate were the last ones the stand had and were apparently made from the leavings of the previous week. The stand closed down as soon as the family left.

Prisons Head Supports Decision Nixing Amnesty

The New York Times

Washington — Norman A. Carlson, the director of the United States Bureau of Prisons, said Tuesday that he endorsed New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's stand against granting amnesty to prisoners who rioted at the Attica Correctional Facility.

Carlson thus joined a number of officials, including President Nixon and Republican Senate leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, in expressing support for the governor's position.

"I think it was extremely unfortunate," Carlson said about the uprising. "I was dismayed like everyone else. But I support Gov. Rockefeller on his position on amnesty."

However, in a wide-ranging interview about the condition of the nation's prisons in general, Carlson said that "there is no question that the prisons have failed. People have been getting out as hardened, if not more so, than when they went in."

He blamed this in part on what he called the public's long-held attitude toward criminals of "out of sight, out of mind." But he said that the public has been changing in the last five or 10 years as people have become aware of the relationship between a high percentage of repeaters and a generally high crime rate.

"But if the public were not becoming more concerned," he said, "we would not be seeing an increase in our resources, in staff, and in construction of new institutions."

Commenting primarily on the federal penal system, Carlson, a former federal parole officer who started as a state correctional officer in Iowa, did not limit his remarks to federal prisons.

He cited the President's directive two years ago, calling on the Justice Department, under whose authority the Bureau of Prisons falls, to make the 27 federal penal institutions a model for all others in the nation.

Carlson singled out overcrowding as one of the glaring deficiencies in prisons on all governmental levels.

Noting that the federal prison population of 21,000 had grown since 1967 by more than 1,000 inmates, Carlson said there were indications that prisoner ranks would continue to grow. And compounding this problem, he said, was a trend towards prisoners becoming more "hard-core."

'Volatile Group'

"The prisons are housing a particularly volatile group of offenders. The courts tend to put the mild offenders on probation," Carlson said. "What we end up with are more aggressive, more assaultive people who are not easy to rehabilitate."

He said, however, that rehabilitation should still be stressed in the "correction process" which includes the courts, police, probation and federal, state and local administrations.

He advocated more and better work training programs for guards, whom he chose to call officers of correction because "they play a good part in the correction process."

Construction of new prisons was an essential measure, he went on, noting that five new federal institutions were either under construction or on the drawing boards.

Exon Is On Executive Committee

San Juan, Puerto Rico (AP) — Republican governors Tuesday elected Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr. of West Virginia as the next chairman of the National Governors Conference.

Moore defeated Gov. Daniel Evans of Washington on a secret ballot at the luncheon of GOP governors. Sources said the vote was approximately 14 to 8.

Republicans chose as their other three members of the incoming conference executive committee Govs. Thomas J. Meskill of Connecticut, Richard Ogilvie of Illinois and Winfield Dunn of Tennessee.

Democrats earlier picked Govs. J. James Exon of Nebraska, Wendell R. Anderson of Minnesota, Forrest Anderson of Montana, Frank Licht of Rhode Island and John West of South Carolina.

Shortly after his election as one of five Democrats on the committee, Exon was invited to the White House Thursday afternoon to visit with President Nixon.

The White House conference is expected to focus on the nation's economy.

Need For Night Watchman Seen At Lancaster Manor

The need for having a night watchman at Lancaster Manor was discussed Tuesday at the meeting of the Lancaster County Welfare Board.

Welfare Director J. Earle Trabert suggested allowing the couple who clean the day care center to live in one of the small apartment areas in the former St. Elizabeth Hospital nurses home.

However, Commissioners Robert Colin and William Grossman indicated they felt a night watchman was needed, and merely having someone live there would not serve the purpose.

They pointed to recent thefts from the Lancaster Manor complex, including kitchen sinks, tools, and materials of contractors and many other items.

In other business Trabert reported that he is still working on a proposal to transfer some of the Juvenile Court staff to the welfare staff so the county wouldn't have to bear the total cost of salary for these individuals.

County To Act On Requests Next Tuesday

Lancaster County Commissioners Tuesday indicated they would take action by next Tuesday on requests for funds by Vision-17 and the Southeast Nebraska Health Planning Council.

Carroll Thompson, representing Vision-17, told the board Tuesday that Lancaster County's proportionate financial share in the 17-county project is $5,000.

Last week representatives from the Southeast Nebraska Health Planning Council had again appeared before the board seeking $6,500 in county funds for its share of that project.

The commissioner said that the money had not been specifically appropriated for these projects but that $12,000 had been budgeted for industrial development which might be divided between the two groups and the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce.

In other action the board appointed two new members to the Lancaster Office of Mental Retardation (LOMAR) board.

Named to the board were Nancy Van Zandt and Holly Bair.

Doctor's Death Is Attributed To A Heart Attack

Bloomfield (AP) — A Bloomfield doctor's death was attributed to a heart attack Tuesday night after his car went off a county road three and one-half miles south of Bloomfield.

The State Patrol said the victim was 59-year-old Dr. Reinhold H. Kkohtz.

The patrol said the car went off the road and into a fence. Troopers said the death was caused by a heart attack. It was not listed as a traffic fatality.

Bill Introduced

Washington (UPI) — Rep. Dante B. Fascell, D-Fla., introduced a bill Tuesday to combine three federal wildlife refugees in the Florida Keys into a "Florida Keys Wilderness."

Prisons Head Supports Decision Nixing Amnesty

©The New York Times

Washington — Norman A. Carlson, the director of the United States Bureau of Prisons, said Tuesday that he endorsed New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's stand against granting amnesty to prisoners who rioted at the Attica Correctional Facility.

Carlson thus joined a number of officials, including President Nixon and Republican Senate leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, in expressing support for the governor's position.

"I think it was extremely unfortunate," Carlson said about the uprising. "I was dismayed like everyone else. But I support Gov. Rockefeller on his position on amnesty."

However, in a wide-ranging interview about the condition of the nation's prisons in general, Carlson said that "there is no question that the prisons have failed. People have been getting out as hardened, if not more so, than when they went in."

He blamed this in part on what he called the public's long-held attitude toward criminals of "out of sight, out of mind." But he said that the public has been changing in the last five or 10 years as people have become aware of the relationship between a high percentage of repeaters and a generally high crime rate.

"But if the public were not becoming more concerned," he said, "we would not be seeing an increase in our resources, in staff, and in construction of new institutions."

Commenting primarily on the federal penal system, Carlson, a former federal parole officer who started as a state correctional officer in Iowa, did not limit his remarks to federal prisons.

He cited the President's directive two years ago, calling on the Justice Department, under whose authority the Bureau of Prisons falls, to make the 27 federal penal institutions a model for all others in the nation.

Carlson singled out overcrowding as one of the glaring deficiencies in prisons on all governmental levels.

Noting that the federal prison population of 21,000 had grown since 1967 by more than 1,000 inmates, Carlson said there were indications that prisoner ranks would continue to grow. And compounding this problem, he said, was a trend towards prisoners becoming more "hard-core."

'Volatile Group'

"The prisons are housing a particularly volatile group of offenders. The courts tend to put the mild offenders on probation," Carlson said. "What we end up with are more aggressive, more assaultive people who are not easy to rehabilitate."

He said, however, that rehabilitation should still be stressed in the "correction process" which includes the courts, police, probation and federal, state and local administrations.

He advocated more and better work training programs for guards, whom he chose to call officers of correction because "they play a good part in the correction process."

Construction of new prisons was an essential measure, he went on, noting that five new federal institutions were either under construction or on the drawing boards.

Exon Is On Executive Committee

San Juan, Puerto Rico (AP) — Republican governors Tuesday elected Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr. of West Virginia as the next chairman of the National Governors Conference.

Moore defeated Gov. Daniel Evans of Washington on a secret ballot at the luncheon of GOP governors. Sources said the vote was approximately 14 to 8.

Republicans chose as their other three members of the incoming conference executive committee Govs. Thomas J. Meskill of Connecticut, Richard Ogilvie of Illinois and Winfield Dunn of Tennessee.

Democrats earlier picked Govs. J. James Exon of Nebraska, Wendell R. Anderson of Minnesota, Forrest Anderson of Montana, Frank Licht of Rhode Island and John West of South Carolina.

Shortly after his election as one of five Democrats on the committee, Exon was invited to the White House Thursday afternoon to visit with President Nixon.

The White House conference is expected to focus on the nation's economy.

Need For Night Watchman Seen At Lancaster Manor

The need for having a night watchman at Lancaster Manor was discussed Tuesday at the meeting of the Lancaster County Welfare Board.

Welfare Director J. Earle Trabert suggested allowing the couple who clean the day care center to live in one of the small apartment areas in the former St. Elizabeth Hospital nurses home.

However, Commissioners Robert Colin and William Grossman indicated they felt a night watchman was needed, and merely having someone live there would not serve the purpose.

They pointed to recent thefts from the Lancaster Manor complex, including kitchen sinks, tools, and materials of contractors and many other items.

In other business Trabert reported that he is still working on a proposal to transfer some of the Juvenile Court staff to the welfare staff so the county wouldn't have to bear the total cost of salary for these individuals.

County To Act On Requests Next Tuesday

Lancaster County Commissioners Tuesday indicated they would take action by next Tuesday on requests for funds by Vision-17 and the Southeast Nebraska Health Planning Council.

Carroll Thompson, representing Vision-17, told the board Tuesday that Lancaster County's proportionate financial share in the 17-county project is $5,000.

Last week representatives from the Southeast Nebraska Health Planning Council had again appeared before the board seeking $6,500 in county funds for its share of that project.

The commissioner said that the money had not been specifically appropriated for these projects but that $12,000 had been budgeted for industrial development which might be divided between the two groups and the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce.

In other action the board appointed two new members to the Lancaster Office of Mental Retardation (LOMAR) board.

Named to the board were Nancy Van Zandt and Holly Bair.

Doctor's Death Is Attributed To A Heart Attack

Bloomfield (AP) — A Bloomfield doctor's death was attributed to a heart attack Tuesday night after his car went off a county road three and one-half miles south of Bloomfield.

The State Patrol said the victim was 59-year-old Dr. Reinhold H. Kkohtz.

The patrol said the car went off the road and into a fence. Troopers said the death was caused by a heart attack. It was not listed as a traffic fatality.

Bill Introduced

Washington (UPI) — Rep. Dante B. Fascell, D-Fla., introduced a bill Tuesday to combine three federal wildlife refugees in the Florida Keys into a "Florida Keys Wilderness."

Food Sales Tax Repeal Is Moved Back, Forward

By BOB GUENTHER
Star Staff Writer

The drive to repeal the state sales tax on food took one step backward and one step forward Tuesday.

Secretary of State Allen J. Beermann rejected Gov. J. James Exon's petition drive to put the issue on the Nov. 7, 1972, ballot on the advice of Attorney General Clarence A. H. Meyer because the petition was not in statute form as required by the constitution.

The constitution states that "the constituional limitations as to scope and subject matter of statutes enacted by the Legislature shall apply to those enacted by the initiative."

Doesn't Violate Law

However, more importantly to drive backers, the Attorney General said that the petition does not violate the 1969 law which stipulates that the Secretary of State cannot accept any initiatives which would infringe upon the Legislature's power to tax.

Meyer said in a letter to Beermann that the petition would not "destroy or completely emasculate" the power to tax nor would it impair "essential governmental functions."

There had been some question whether the petition would be affected by the 1969 law. Gov. Exon previously said he thought the law to be unconstitutional. But Meyer skirted the issue of constitutionality by ruling that the petition drive did not fall within the scope of the law.

Revisions Needed

The petition, which had been rejected once before due to form inadequacies, must now be revised and resubmitted before the Secretary of State can file it.

"I'm sure now I would accept the petition if the revised form met the statute requirement. I would first review it with the Attorney General to see that it met this requirement," Beermann said.

The Attorney General did not say what would be needed for the petition to be in statute form, since he cannot write an opinion for a private citizen. In this instance, Gov. Exon acted as a petition sponsor rather than as governor.

Beermann had previously rejected the petition because it was lacking two affidavits — one on sponsors and the other on contributions. Exon secured the necessary affidavits and then resubmitted the peittion to the Secretary of State prior to Tuesday's rejection.

The last petition submitted in statute form, Beermann said, was the ton-mile tax petition of 1956.

Beermann said petition sponsors have until about next July to get the petition form approved and the 311,313 signatures needed in order to put the issue on the November, 1972, ballot.

Strange Object In The Sky Will Be Barium Ion Cloud

If you see a white, cigar-shaped something in the sky about 11 p.m. some night between now and Sept. 24, don't be alarmed.

It's not Martians or a flying elephant. In fact it's not even rain. It's the result of a joint experiment of West German and U.S. scientists.

The something in the sky will be a barium ion cloud. Scientists want to study the behavior of the cloud at high altitudes, according to information given the National Weather Service by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The barium cloud will be released at a height of 20,000 miles from a Scout rocket launched from Wallops Island, off the coast of Virginia.

A similar experiment was conducted Sept. 7, but at a much lower height, only 100 to 200 miles. Nonetheless people all up and down the Eastern Seaboard got on the phones to find out what was in the sky.

Officials say this cloud may be as bright as the moon. They hope it will be three times as wide as the moon and ten times as long.

Officials say that under favorable conditions the cloud might be seen over all of North and South America. While the cloud is aloft it will leave a trail 10,000 miles long over central America, the officials say.

So you don't have to have your eyes checked, or your head. There really will be a something up there, but it's man-made.

Iowa Car-Train Crash Kills Two

Honey Creek, Iowa (UPI) — Two persons were killed outright Tuesday when the car in which they were riding was struck by an Illinois Central train at a crossing here.

The investigating officer, State Patrolman Larry Torrey, identified the victims as Gwen B. Burchell, 59, of Yorkville, Ill., the driver, and her cousin, Dr. Mabel G. Masten, a physician. Dr. Masten, 73, was from Palm Beach, Fla.

Some people ask — DO I HAVE TO WEAR A HEARING AID ALL THE TIME?

I would say not necessarily — a lot depends upon the extent and type of hearing impairment, and under waht conditions you have the greatest need for better hearing. Those people with a mild, partial hearing loss, need only to use an aid on certain occasions. Every individual varies and it depends upon one's activities in social, buisness or family life.

"Wool . . . It's A Natural"

Soft piano music from the able fingers of Miss Dorothy Applebee set the mood for an all wool fashion show, "Dressing for the 70's" at the Miller & Paine tea room yesterday afternoon.

The guest of honor for the show was Miss Wool of America, Miss Marjorie Sharp. Miss Sharp's travelling wardrobe of smashing fashions in pure wool were combined with fashions of wool from Miller and Paine.

Miss Wool, who is known to family and friends as Margie, is a vivacious, brown-eyed brunette of Salt Lake City, Utah. At 23 she has graduated magna cum laude from the University of Utah College of Nursing.

Taking a leave of absence from the profession she wishes to pursue, nursing, she will be travelling for a year as the wool industry's special representative. Her hobbies include skiing, tennis, horseback riding, swimming, teaching ballet and playing the piano.

Other models in the shows yesterday, which were held at 11:30 and 12:30 downtown, and at 6 o'clock and 7 o'clock at Gateway, were: Mrs. Richard Blomgren, Mrs. Willard Cook, Mrs. M. J. Epp, Mrs. Lawrence Frazier, Mrs. Dale Harlan, Mrs. William Harris, Mrs. Robert Hinrichs and Mrs. Ron Hoffman.

The art of wool fashion was emphasized as some of the models gathered near the permanent collection of art in the Miller & Paine tea room downtown. Miss Wool (far left) wears a Malcom Charles evening ensemble of wool knit in bright red. Star spangled with gold appliques, this floor length gown features a hip high slit revealing gold lame hot pants and a tie belt adds the finishing touch.

Another evening ensemble was worn by Mrs. Cook (second left). A paisley purple skirt which features gold buttons from the waist, down the front to the floor, is worn over a purple jersey turtle-neck top and floor length skirt.

The casual slack suit in brown and beige was worn by Mrs. Harris (center). A tie belt emphasizes the natural waistline, and the short sleeves are accented by cross stitching which is repeated on the shoulders for an epaulet effect.

The daytime dress in grey is worn by Mrs. Hinrichs (seated on chair). An overskirt of light grey is worn over the simple, darker grey dress. The skirt is fashioned with a peasant waistline and decorated with red and black ric rac.

Mrs. M. J. Epp (back row), wears a brown, white and orange wide plaid coat. This garment is double-breasted and cinched at the waist with a wrap tie. A collar of dyed Australian fox enhances the coat.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

a child's world

By PHYLLIS WOOLLEN

Dear Mrs. Woollen:

My daughter, Susie, and I have always been so close that we were almost more girl friends, than mother and daughter. We did just everything together, from going shopping to going to the movies. I was asked to go along with Susie and her friends to their school games and on outings.

Don't misunderstand. I wasn't trying to be one of Susie's friends, it was just that this sort of relationship developed so naturally, and we enjoyed each other's company.

Susie is 12 years old now, and there has been an almost drastic change in her behavior recently. Not only do we not do anything together, but Susie virtually avoids me. She seems so secretive and withdrawn. I can't think of anything that I've done, and I am concerned. Is this a normal reaction, or do you think that there might be other problems? I would appreciate your attention to this matter.

EX-PAL

(The following discussion of this problem is under the supervision and guidance of the staff members of Child Guidance Center).

This rejection of a mother as a pal is quite normal, and should not be emphasized or played up by the parents. A child needs a parent, and not a pal.

When children reach a certain age, such as Susie at 12, they seek their own independence, and reject their dependence on their parents. Their first step towards emancipation is to look toward their friends rather than their parents. Confidantes are found outside of the family circle.

A parent's responsibility is to be a parent, rather than a friend. Too many parents use friendships with their children as a method to avoid their role as parent. As a parent, one is called up on to be a rule setter and maintainer of the family structure. To ask a child to be a friend with his parent is like asking an adult to be open with his thoughts and feelings about his boss.

It is difficult, then, for a child to be friends with an authoritative figure, and the parent who demands that his child be his or her friend is being unreasonable.

Sometimes, the fact that one parent becomes a pal with the child alienates the other parent. If the mother, for instance has complaints about the child's father, she should confront the father, and not the child. Burdening a child with such problems, under the guise of friendship can only serve to create anguish for the youngster. While there is a real need to share a problem, it is unfair to burden the child with it.

If a mother tries to maintain a 'pal' relationship with her daughter, it may be so that the mother can remain young vicariously. The emphasis on remaining young is perpetuated through television commercials and advertisements. In reality, this mother-daughter competition can be damaging to the daughter, especially if the mother does not see the value in maturity.

MONEY MATTERS

BY LINDA OLIG

We have been emphasizing the importance of regular saving for the past few weeks — Now we are going to turn the tables and talk about credit.

Surprisingly enough, saving makes you a creditor — the bank owes you money and is your debtor. Not only that, but saving, regularly of course, helps to build your credit standing and therefore paves the way for borrowing. Saving also helps to create a record of responsibility, reputation, and standing in the community.

Installment buying, or buying on credit, came into vogue with the automobile. A car is a major purchase and a necessity, and few people can purchase an auto outright.

Used wisely, installment credit can improve family standards of living and can contribute to the expansion and sound growth of the national economy. It also helps people to meet emergencies.

The major reason for buying on credit is that individuals are therefore able to get the things they want, or need, immediately — rather than waiting to save enough to pay for the expenditure. That way, they can make monthly payments out of their income.

Many people who have savings accounts continue to pay by installments simply because they do not wish to take from their savings and they fear that it would be more difficult to rebuild their accounts than to make periodic payments.

Credit can be considered savings, a forced savings, for an investment.

Buying on credit also helps to build your financial reputation in the community, and this is particularly important for young people. Thus, the firms know from first hand experience that your word, and name, are good.

Often it is good business to borrow or buy on credit — usually to take advantage of an unusual bargain or business opportunity. The danger lies in overextending yourself, and in letting the time payments take too large a portion of your income.

If you plan to borrow there are some very important questions that you should ask yourself, and the answers will tell you whether you can afford to go into debt. The questions—

Is my job reasonably secure?

Can I fit the time payments comfortably into my budget?

Can I pay back the money out of present income and still have enough left over to meet current and major fixed expenses, as well as emergencies?

NEXT WEEK — More on credit and charges.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 ♣	1 ♠	Pass	Pass
2 ♣	2 ♠	Pass	3 ♠

Opening lead — eight of clubs.

It is certainly poor policy to punish partner for competing in the bidding. Here is a case in point.

South surely had ample values for his bid of a spade over a club, and his two spade bid over two clubs was also entirely acceptable under the circumstances. But once North had passed his partner's one spade overcall, there was an implied agreement between them that there was no game in the hand — since they had each expressed willingness to play the hand at one spade.

Hence South's two spade bid could not reasonably be regarded as a try for game, and it should have been read by North as simply an effort to either gain a part score for his side or stop East-West from achieving one. On this basis, North was clearly out of order when he raised to three spades on his skimpy values.

Eventually North had to pay for his transgression when East-West collaborated magnificently to find exactly the right defense to beat the contract.

West naturally led his singleton club. East won the ten with the jack and, in an effort to interfere with possible club ruffs in dummy, returned a trump at trick two.

Declarer won in dummy with the ten and played the queen of clubs, hoping to ruff two clubs later on.

East covered the queen with the king and south would surely have accomplished his mission had West discarded on his partner's high club. But West rose to the occasion by ruffing his partner's trick and returning a trump, and the end result was that declarer lost three clubs, a heart and a diamond to go down one.

ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are in our mid-thirties, so don't get the idea we are a pair of old fogies when you read this.

Our problem is another couple with whom we go out at least once a week. The man has been our good friend for many years. His wife died two years ago and now he is going with a woman who seems to have changed him. He used to act like a perfect gentleman, but not any more. He carries on in public with this girl — kissing, hugging, smooching and what not. This they do in front of children, in restaurants, in the bowling alley, at the beach. Anywhere at all. They act as if they are all alone.

I suppose you could say, "They're in love," but Abby, that's no excuse for bad manners. We have hinted, but it hasn't worked. We would hate to end our friendship with this wonderful guy, but his behavior is just too embarrassing. What do you suggest?

GOOD FRIENDS

DEAR FRIENDS: Quit hinting, and tell loverboy to knock off the love scenes in public. And if he doesn't, simply put the friendship in cold storage for a while. P.S. He'll be back. This affair is too hot not to cool down.

DEAR ABBY: What would you say about a man who goes to church every Sunday and can never tell you what the sermon was about, but he can tell you what everybody wore?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: I'd say he's better at looking than listening.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

The Amana Society of Iowa was a communal group led by religious leaders. This black and gold sewing machine, although mode in the outside world, was used by the settlement before 1900. (Index of American Design, Washington, D.C.)

By RALPH AND TERRY KOVEL

Communal living was fashionable during the 1870s, just as it is in some settlements today. Many religious groups organized towns where the "family" built houses and farmed together.

One interesting religious group founded the Amana Society, the Community of True Inspiration. The group was founded about 1715 in Wurttenburg, Germany as a revolt against the Lutheran Church. The members came to the United States in 1843 and settled in the Western part of New York.

In 1855 the community moved to Iowa where eight villages were founded. Each was separate except from the leaders. The village was run by God who spoke through the words of members when they were in a religious trance. The council made decisions but the Wekzeug, the member who spoke the word of God, often changed these decisions.

The Amanists had prosperous villages and even hired outsiders to work for them. They made furniture and wool textile products with great skill.

The towns remained as religious communes until the 1930s when the church was separated from the society. Each member was given part of the business and stock and the individual family ran its own affairs.

Used wisely, installment credit can improve family standards of living and can contribute to the expansion and sound growth of the national economy It also helps people to meet emergencies.

The major reason for buying on credit is that individuals are therefore able to get the things they want, or need, immediately — rather than waiting to save enough to pay for the expenditure That way, they can make monthly payments out of their income.

Many people who have savings accounts continue to pay by installments simply because they do not wish to take from their savings and they fear that it would be more difficult to rebuild their accounts than to make periodic payments.

Credit can be considered savings, a forced savings, for an investment.

Buying on credit also helps to build your financial reputation in the community, and this is particularly important for young people. Thus, the firms know from first hand experience that your word, and name, are good.

Often it is good business to borrow or buy on credit — usually to take advantage of an unusual bargain or business opportunity. The danger lies in overextending yourself, and in letting the time payments take too large a portion of your income.

If you plan to borrow there are some very important questions that you should ask yourself, and the answers will tell you whether you can afford to go into debt. The questions—

Is my job reasonably secure?

Can I fit the time payments comfortably into my budget?

Can I pay back the money out of present income and still have enough left over to meet current and major fixed expenses, as well as emergencies?

NEXT WEEK — More on credit and charges.

	♠ AKQJ9

	♣ 5432

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 ♣	1 ♠	Pass	Pass
2 ♣	2 ♠	Pass	3 ♠

Opening lead — eight of clubs.

It is certainly poor policy to punish partner for competing in the bidding. Here is a case in point.

South surely had ample values for his bid of a spade over a club, and his two spade bid over two clubs was also entirely acceptable under the circumstances. But once North had passed his partner's one spade overcall, there was an implied agreement between them that there was no game in the hand — since they had each expressed willingness to play the hand at one spade

Hence South's two spade bid could not reasonably be regarded as a try for game, and it should have been read by North as simply an effort to either gain a part score for his side or stop East-West from achieving one. On this basis, North was clearly out of order when he raised to three spades on his skimpy values.

Eventually North had to pay for his transgression when East-West collaborated magnificently to find exactly the right defense to beat the contract.

West naturally led his singleton club. East won the ten with the jack and, in an effort to interfere with possible club ruffs in dummy, returned a trump at trick two

Declarer won in dummy with the ten and played the queen of clubs, hoping to ruff two clubs later on.

East covered the queen with the king and south would surely have accomplished his mission had West discarded on his partner's high club. But West rose to the occasion by ruffing his partner's trick and returning a trump, and the end result was that declarer lost three clubs, a heart and a diamond to go down one.

ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are in our mid-thirties, so don't get the idea we are a pair of old fogies when you read this.

Our problem is another couple with whom we go out at least once a week. The man has been our good friend for many years. His wife died two years ago and now he is going with a woman who seems to have changed him. He used to act like a perfect gentleman, but not any more. He carries on in public with this girl — kissing, hugging, smooching and what not. This they do in front of children, in restaurants, in the bowling alley, at the beach. Anywhere at all. They act as if they are all alone.

I suppose you could say, "They're in love," but Abby, that's no excuse for bad manners. We have hinted, but it hasn't worked. We would hate to end our friendship with this wonderful guy, but his behavior is just too embarrassing. What do you suggest?

GOOD FRIENDS

DEAR FRIENDS: Quit hinting, and tell loverboy to knock off the love scenes in public. And if he doesn't, simply put the friendship in cold storage for a while. P.S. He'll be back. This affair is too hot not to cool down.

DEAR ABBY: What would you say about a man who goes to church every Sunday and can never tell you what the sermon was about, but he can tell you what everybody wore?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: I'd say he's better at looking than listening.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

The Amana Society of Iowa was a communal group led by religious leaders. This black and gold sewing machine, although mode in the outside world, was used by the settlement before 1900 (Index of American Design, Washington, D.C.)

By RALPH AND TERRY KOVEL

Communal living was fashionable during the 1870s, just as it is in some settlements today. Many religious groups organized towns where the "family" built houses and farmed together.

One interesting religious group founded the Amana Society, the Community of True Inspiration The group was founded about 1715 in Wurttenburg, Germany as a revolt against the Lutheran Church The members came to the United States in 1843 and settled in the Western part of New York.

In 1855 the community moved to Iowa where eight villages were founded. Each was separate except from the leaders. The village was run by God who spoke through the words of members when they were in a religious trance. The council made decisions but the Wekzeug, the member who spoke the word of God, often changed these decisions.

The Amanists had prosperous villages and even hired outsiders to work for them. They made furniture and wool textile products with great skill.

The towns remained as religious communes until the 1930s when the church was separated from the society. Each member was given part of the business and stock and the individual family ran its own affairs.

An Ahead-Of-Time Dessert

Baked Alaska has been an impressively fancy dessert ever since it was first dreamed up at Delmonico's restaurant about a century ago to celebrate the acquisition of what is now our 49th State.

As most dessert lovers know, it's a slab of hard-frozen ice cream arranged on a layer of cake, then insulated with slathers of meringue. It's actually two desserts in one and in the following recipe either cake or ice cream could be served separately.

This Alaska stores beautifully in the freezer for several days. Arrange it on a small unfinished piece of wood so that the dessert and its insulating platform can be lifted from the freezer to a hot oven just before serving. Or arrange on a sheet of brown paper, then place on cookie sheet for baking.

It's also possible to make Baked Alaska with a layer of sponge cake from the store and a good vanilla ice cream. However, make sure the ice cream package says "Vanilla Ice Cream." By law, this means it must be flavored with pure vanilla extract or finely ground vanilla beans. (If the package says "Vanilla Flavored", artificial vanilla has been used.) The use of pure vanilla extract is a sign that the baker or ice cream maker takes pride in his product.

VANILLA BAKED ALASKA EXTRAVAGANZA

½ cup sifted cake flour
¼ cup unsweetened cocoa
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
4 eggs, separated
¾ cup sugar, divided
1½ teaspoons pure vanilla extract
2 tablespoons water
vanilla ice cream

MERINGUE

6 egg whites
¾ cup sugar

Sift flour with cocoa, cornstarch, baking powder and salt; set aside. In a large mixing bowl beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Gradually add half of the sugar; beat until stiff and set aside. In a small bowl beat egg yolks and vanilla until thick. Gradually add remaining sugar, beating well. Slowly add water to egg yolks while beating; beat 1 minute. Pour egg yolk mixture into egg whites, gently fold in using rubber spatula. Add flour mixture in thirds, carefully folding after each addition. Turn batter into a 15 x 10 x 1-inch jelly roll pan, lined on the bottom with lightly greased waxed paper. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 18 to 20 minutes. Turn out immediately onto cooling rack and remove paper. Cool thoroughly. Cut two strips of cake the width and length of an ice cube tray. (Serve remaining cake with ice cream, fruit sauce, etc.) Prepare meringue by beating egg whites until they stand in soft peaks. Gradually add sugar, about 2 tablespoons at a time. Beat until egg whites are stiff but still shiny. Put one cake layer on a wooden board or on a sheet of brown paper which has been placed on a cookie sheet. Top with vanilla ice cream and a second cake layer. With a spatula quickly spread meringue over entire surface of cake and ice cream down to the board or paper. Freeze until ready to serve. (It may be frozen for several days). Bake in a preheated extremely hot oven (500 degrees F.) for 4 to 5 minutes or until lightly browned. If brown paper has been used, trim from edge of Alaska and place on a serving plate. Serve immediately.

YIELD: 8 to 10 portions.

BAKED BUTTERNUT SQUASH

1 large Butternut squash, pared and cut into 1-inch cubes (remove seeds and fibers)
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup packed brown sugar
½ cup butter or margarine, melted
2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice

Place squash cubes in 2-quart casserole or baking dish. Sprinkle with spices and brown sugar. Drizzle with melted butter and lemon juice. Bake uncovered in 375° F. oven for 45 minutes, or until tender. Makes: 4 servings.

Do Pizza The Spanish Way

Nothing gives the informal touch more than a pizza—Its goodness, of course, depends upon the pizza. Here's an added suggestion—make the pizza oblong instead of round, thus saving considerable work.

Here is the recipe:

COCA DE VERDURA

4 slices bacon
¼ pound fresh mushrooms, halved
1 small sweet white onion, sliced (optional)
1 (10-ounce) package frozen chopped spinach, thawed
1 (8-ounce) package refrigerated crescent dinner rolls
1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce with cheese
½ teaspoon Italian seasonings
¼ pound sliced American or mozzarella cheese, cut in 1-inch wide strips

Fry bacon slices until crisp; pour off all but 2 tablespoons drippings. Add mushrooms and unless there are anti-onion eaters around, the onion slices separated into rings; toss lightly just to coat. Drain spinach thoroughly, pressing between paper towels to remove as much moisture as possible. Unroll the refrigerated dinner rolls and roll dough in oblong shape; pat into 10x15-inch oblong on greased baking sheet, building up rim around outer edge. Press dough together at perforations to seal. Prick with fork; brush lightly with bacon drippings. Bake at 450 degrees 5 minutes. Remove from oven; spread with Hunt's tomato sauce with cheese and sprinkle with Italian seasonings. Arrange spinach and onion rings around outer edge. Place mushroom halves, rounded side up and cheese strips in alternate diagonal strips over all. Return to oven and continue baking 15 minutes. Garnish with reserved bacon slices. Makes 6 servings.

It's More Than Hash

If you're pinching pennies (and who isn't) try this recipe for "Egg 'n Potato Hash." It's tasty, nutritious and easy on the budget.

It's prepared easily, too, with all of the cooking being done in a skillet. If you have one of the pretty electric skillets that doubles as a server use it for preparing this dish. It cuts down on dish washing and also looks attractive on the dining table.

"Egg 'n Potato Hash" is a mixture of fried potatoes, canned luncheon meat and scrambled eggs. Chopped green pepper adds extra flavor and a touch of mustard laces it all together.

EGG 'N POTATO HASH

1 can (12 oz.) luncheon meat, cut in ½-inch cubes.
¾ cup chopped green pepper
3 tablespoons butter
3 cups diced potatoes
8 eggs
½ cup milk
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

In a skillet, cook luncheon meat and green pepper in butter. Remove with slotted spoon and set aside. Place potatoes in skillet. Cook and cover until tender and lightly browned, stirring occasionally.

Beat eggs, milk, mustard, salt and pepper together until a uniform yellow. Stir in meat mixture. Pour over potatoes. As mixture begins to set at bottom and sides, gently lift cooked portions with a spatula so that the thin, uncooked part can flow to the bottom. Avoid constant stirring. Cook until eggs are thickened throughout but still moist, about 3 to 5 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Squash

MAPLE NUT HUBBARD SQUASH

3 pounds Hubbard squash
½ cup butter or margarine
¾ cup maple syrup
Salt and pepper to taste
½ cup chopped toast pecans

Cut squash into pieces, pare, remove seeds and fibers. Cook covered in boiling water for 20 to 30 minutes, or until tender. Drain and mash well. Beat in butter, maple syrup, salt and pepper. Sprinkle with pecans.

Makes: 6 servings.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

☆ By SIDNEY OMARR ☆

Forecast For Wednesday

Some who are classical representatives of their zodiacal signs include Mae West, Leo; Bette Davis, Aries; James Mason, Taurus; Bob Hope, Gemini; Jane Russell, Cancer; Greta Garbo, Virgo; Deborah Kerr, Libra; Richard Burton, Scorpio; Ramsey Clark, Sagittarius; Henry Miller, Capricorn; Kim Novak, Aquarius and Anais Nin, Pisces.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Review hopes, ambitions. You may be taking circular rather than direct route. Be aware of where you are going—and why. Accent on children who make demands, loved ones who are cantankerous.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Stress practicality. Leave wishful thinking to others. Be aware of accounts, money position and experience. In personal dealings, emotions could attempt to take command. Strive for balance.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Be flexible. Look ahead. Perceive opportunities. Overall view now is best; leave details to others. Aries is involved. Learn from past experience. Aid one who has suffered temporary setback.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Money situation subject to change—for better. Key is to promote the new. Be confident enough to utilize original methods. You are not wedded to outmoded concepts. Know this—speak to mate, partner about it.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Learn by teaching; share knowledge. Avoid rushing into partnership, marriage, other contractural commitment. Cycle high; time your moves. Emotions tend to stampede. Pull tight on reins. Remain in control.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Subtle approach is a requisite. If you are heavy-handed, prospects are frightened. Accent on what occurs at secret conference. You are involved; so is Sagittarius. Keep options open.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Some friends display anxiety about promises, changes, revisions. Key is to know your own job, to be thorough and to separate fact from nonsense. One who is rival makes definite move.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Study Libra message. Welcome chance to communicate views. Member of opposite sex is involved. What was settled once more is open for discussion — and agrument. Involves home base, property.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You nail down what had been elusive. You impress others. Your imprint, style become known to more persons. Dance to your own tune. Don't imitate. Lead rather than follow. Domestic situation improves.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Your perceptiveness becomes great ally. Applies especially where finances enter picture. Be aggressive when it comes to collecting what you need. No more procrastinating. Go to it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Relative, neighbor may get your adrenalin going. There are disputes. But remember that a clash of ideas is far more exciting than clash of guns. Means enjoy intellectual combat. Test ideas.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): What may appear to be starting is actually finishing. Money promised may be tied up, hidden, restricted, nonusable. Know this and be prepared with alternatives. Stress ability to use material at hand.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have distinctive voice; you are appealing to opposite sex. Current domestic situation will improve. By November, you are in driver's seat where emotions, finances are concerned. Make sure that family member understands your goal.

Eddie Predicted It

Eddie Crowder predicted it. "I believe we're going to win," the Colorado coach said before his team's 31-21 upset of LSU. "I've got a gut feeling."

He also offered this sobering thought for future foes on the Buffs' slate, "This team has the greatest potential of any team we have had in our tenure at Colorado."

Former Missouri quarterback Terry McMillan (1968-69), comparing new Tiger coach Al Onofrio and former coach Dan Devine, says:

"Onofrio has unlimited football knowledge. Coach Devine is the organizer, the planner the handler of men. Onofrio makes the car. Devine sells it."

When Kansas defeated Washington State, 34-0, Saturday, it made new head coach Don Fambrough the first KU coach since Ad Lindsey in 1932 to begin his regime on a winning note.

Gwinn Henry in 1939, J. V. Vikes in 1948, Chuck Mather in 1954, Jack Mitchell in 1958 and Pepper Rodgers in 1967 all lost their first games at KU head coaches and Henry Shenk in 1943 and George Sauer in 1946 could manage only ties.

A Perfect Description

Sports Illustrated writer Dan Jenkins gives a perfect description in last week's issue of the differences between coaching football today and how it once was:

"Not terribly long ago," he writes, "the college coach had to worry about a few untidy problems. He needed to find a quarterback who could draw a play in the dirt with a stick and say 'Hup.' He needed to find a guard who could pull and not run over his quarterback."

Today's coach, Jenkins notes, has other concerns, such as rising costs, dope, revolts, injuries on artificial turf, jets, domes, trustees, fathers, Walter Byers and columnists. In order to be successful, he must be a public relations dynamo, a head shrinker, a federal narcotics agent, a data computer expert, a politician, a salesman, a fund raiser, a board room executive, an after-dinner comedian, a CPA, a social welfare worker, a labor-management consultant, a TV personality, a psychiatrist and a philosopher. In his spare time he can worry about a defense for the Veer-T.

Colorado football caoch Eddie Crowder tells of the letter that goes out each summer to incoming freshman football players. One thing the letter does is to advise them to ship their personal belongings in advance.

The letter jokingly tells them to address the trunks to Joe College, Hernia Hall, University of Colorado. "We once had a player, who did just that," Crowder admits.

"After a week or so during which he had to wear the same clothes he arrived with and didn't have a razor or toothbrush, he came to us to ask about locating the trunk. We went to the Railway Express office and there it was. The clerk laughed when we asked about it and he bought the trunk from the boy because of the laughs the employees at the depot had had over it."

Butkus Has Solution

Remember malcontent Dave Meggyesy's attack on pro football in which he claimed among other things that he was taught to use his hands to force a man's cleats into the turf and then drive his shoulder into the man's knee to rip his leg apart?

In the newest issue of Playboy, the question is posed to Chicago Bears' linebacker Dick Butkus in an article entitled, "Mr. Mean." Butkus, asked if that had ever been pulled on him, replied, "Hell, no! All you'd have to do is roll with the block and step on the guy's face."

Kansas football coach Don Fambrough, discussing an injury suffered by KU defensive back Gary Adams, observed that surgery was out of the question because "there's no way he could afford an operation."

Adams' father is K. S. (Boots) Adams, retired chairman of the board of the Phillips Petroleum Co., and his brother is K. S. (Bud) Adams, president of the Houston Oilers. Gary and two other brothers won the Quick Kick beverage franchise in Oklahoma and Texas.

While it's common practice for football teams to return home immediately following the game, Stanford didn't after its 19-0 win over Missouri at Columbia. Coach John Ralston took his entire squad of 78 on to Bear Mountain, N.Y., to prepare for this week's Army game. Classes don't start at Stanford until Sept. 29.

DODGER WIN NARROWS GAP

—DAVIS TOP COLLEGE BACK—

Colorado Tailback Debute Hurts LSU

By Associated Press

Texas' loss has become Colorado's gain and Colorado's gain has become Louisiana's loss.

If you can't figure that one out, it means simply that Charlie Davis, one of the best high school running backs in Texas two years ago, spurned his home state to attend the University of Colorado and made his varsity debut Saturday night by carrying 20 times for 174 yards and two touchdowns as the Buffaloes upset ninth-ranked — at the time — LSU.

For that performance, he was named Tuesday as College Back of the Week by The Associated Press for the first weekend of the season.

The 5-11, 198-pound sophomore from West Columbia, Tex., was the most valuable player in the Texas high school all-star game during the summer of 1970 and then gained 125 yards in the Texas-Oklahoma Oil Bowl prep contest.

Recruited heavily, he signed a letter of intent with Texas A&M because of his friendship with track stars Curtis and Marvin Mills. Also, he said, "I already knew some of the players at Colorado like Cliff Branch and Larry Thomas and some of the other kids who were going to come and I knew I'd like it there.

"I didn't want to play in Texas. Except for Texas and Arkansas I don't really think the Southwest Conference is that tough. I wanted to play in as good a conference as possible and the Big Eight is certainly that. Missouri and Kansas recruited me very hard, along with Colorado."

As a Colorado freshman Davis gained more than 600 yards in four games and last spring he beat out 6-5, 225-pound Jon Keyworth, 1970's No. 2 varsity ground-gainer, for the No. 1 tailback job.

Davis is fast enough, although his :9.8 speed doesn't even make him the fastest on the Colorado team. But he probably has more moves and agility than any other back the Buffs have had under Eddie Crowder.

His 174-yard prancing against LSU was the second highest ever by a Big Eight rookie in his varsity debut, surpassed only by the 187 yards gained by Nebraska's Bob Reynolds in the 1950 opener. Davis scored twice against LSU, including a 47-yard gallop on his last carry of the game with 11 minutes left, putting Colorado in front 31-14.

"Charlie's performance was certainly an indication of the kind of ability he has," said Crowder. "He actually was more ready to play than the average sophomore. He has a great amount of maturity and he has as much ability as any back we've had at Colorado in recent years."

In gaining Back of the Week honors, Davis won out over running backs Pete Wood of West Virginia, Steve Jones of Duke, Willie Burden of North Carolina State and Joe Schwartz of Toledo; quarterbacks Larry Russell of Wake Forest and Don Lamka of Ohio State; flanker Dick Graham of Oklahoma State and defensive backs Dickie Harris of South Carolina and Buzy Rosenberg of Georgia.

CHARLIE DAVIS

CU's Davis Named Loop Back

Kansas City, Mo. (UPI) — Charlie Davis had no idea what was in store for him Saturday night in Baton Rouge, La., against the defensive-minded Louisiana State Tigers.

In the first place, he was Colorado's No. 2 running back behind Jon Keyworth. In the second place, he was an untried sophomore. And thirdly, LSU allowed foes only an average of 50 yards per game rushing last season.

"Charlie proved he is a big-league ballplayer," Colorado coach Eddie Crowder understated.

The 191-pound tailback got his chance in the second quarter when Keyworth suffered a broken leg. Davis responded by gaining 174 yards on 20 carries and scored two touchdowns on runs of 3 and 47 yards. Colorado notched a 31-21 upset victory.

"He made yardage on three different kinds of plays," said Crowder. "He made quite a bit up the middle, which pleased us because it proved that he can run inside. Then there was the option play and the quick sweep."

For his efforts, Davis was named as the Big Eight's Back of The Week.

Davis' three-yard score was up the middle, while the 47-yard touchdown came off the option after quarterback Ken Johnson had turned upfield about two yards past the line of scrimmage.

Giants Slipped By LA

San Francisco (AP) — Manny Mota's three-run pinch double in the ninth inning catapulted Los Angeles to a 6-5 victory over San Francisco and vaulted the hard-charging Dodgers within a game of the staggering Giants in the frantic National League West.

The victory was the Dodgers' eighth in a row and eighth straight this season over the Giants, whose once-comfortable 8½-game lead shriveled as they lost nine of 10 games.

San Francisco seemed to have shaken the onrushing Dodgers with a four-run rally in the bottom of the seventh inning, capped by Bobby Bonds' 31st home run and second of the game, a three-run blast off reliever Joe Moeller, 2-3.

But Duke Sims opened the ninth with a single to center, Bill Sudakis batted for Moeller and blooped a single to center and Maury Wills loaded the bases by dumping a bunt down the third base line, knocking out Giants reliever Jerry Johnson, 12-7.

That brought up Mota, batting for Billy Buckner, and the Dodgers' veteran utility outfielder belted John Cumberland's first pitch down the left field line to clear the bases.

The Giants, who lost Monday night's beanball and argument-filled thriller 5-4, trailed Tuesday night's contest 3-1 after Los Angeles scored a pair of unearned runs in the fourth inning.

But they started what seemed to be the winning rally when Chris Speder hit a two-out homer off Dodgers' starter Al Downing in the seventh.

Tito Fuentes then doubled and Moeller took over, walking Willie Mays before Bonds rocketed his homer over the left field fence.

Bonds hit his first homer of the night in the second inning to tie the score at 1-1.

Buckner, one of four players fined by National League President Charles Feeney after being thrown out of Monday night's wild game, led off the Dodger fourth and reached base when first baseman Dave Kingman booted his grounder.

Willie Davis then forced Buckner and Richie Allen popped out before Willie Crawford punched a tie-breaking double down the third base line.

Davis was running on the play and scored easily from first as the Giants' Ken Henderson chased the ball into the left field corner. Wes Parker followed with a single up the middle on a 3-2 pitch to score Crawford.

The Dodgers scored in the second when Allen got an infield single, went to third on Crawford's single and came home on Parker's groundout.

Odd-Man Front May Cause Slight NU Offense Change

. . . HUSKERS MAY EXPERIMENT

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Nebraska, having solved an even-front defense last week in scoring 34 points against Oregon, this week faces an odd-man front when Minnesota invades Memorial Stadium.

"This causes us to change our offense some," Husker head coach Bob Devaney points out. "With Minnesota using an odd-man front basically, this means they've got a man right on the nose of our center.

"This puts more pessure on the center and it also puts more pressure on the passer. It means they'll be rushing more people on pass defense and it also makes running wide tougher because of the extra man up there to help with containment."

The NU coach also pointed out that in the past the Husker offense had to do some experimenting to find weaknesses in the Gopher defense.

"We've had to probe for a while in the past to find where we could hit them," he observed. "Sometimes we've had success running against them and at other times we've been successful by passing."

While Minnesota has never beaten Devaney in six tries, the first four were decided by a touchdown or less. The Huskers won by 14-7 in 1963, 26-21 in 1964, 7-0 in 1967 and 17-14 in 1968 before scoring easier 42-14 and 35-10 triumphs the past two years.

"Minnesota is always physically strong, which makes it difficult to run right at them," Devaney adds.

The Minnesota offense also differs a great deal from Oregon's.

"They throw 80 to 90 per cent of their passes from the option or from action," Devaney notes, "While Oregon's quarterback was primarily a dropback passer.

"Minnesota's quarterback, Craig Curry, also is a part of their running attack while Dan Fouts for Oregon was only a passer."

Curry led the Big Ten in total offense a year ago.

There was little change in the Husker injury report Tuesday with linebacker Bill Sloey still listed as "very, very doubtful," center Doug Dumler as "definitely doubtful," and tight end Jerry List as "probably being able to play."

Defensive tackle Bill Janssen was hit on the chin during Tuesday's drills and had to have stitches to close the wound, but Devaney said he would be able to play.

Detroit Lions Cut Veteran Pro Karras

Detroit (AP) — Alex Karras, stating he was "shocked beyond belief," said that there were "other factors involved" in his being cut by the Detroit Lions Tuesday.

"I cannot believe that the Lions' decision to place me on waivers is based on a fair assessment of my performance on the field," the 36-year-old all-pro defensive tackle said in a prepared statement. "There are other factors involved.

"I have played 14 years in the National Football League. Throughout my career, I have done my best on the field, and at the same time, I have tried to be myself.

"Perhaps there is no room in the world of sports these days for an athlete who has an opinion on anything except his own sport. I have opinions. I have a wife, and children, and I pay my bills like everyone else.

"Therefore, I think I am entitled the same considerations as other human beings and that includes having the right to express myself on something other than playing defensive tackle.

"Because of this, I think the Lions have released me on waivers.

However, a Washington spokesman said the Skins' had taken Karras on waivers.

When reached for comment Karras said: "I'll make up my mind probably tonight and let George Allen Skins' coach know in the morning."

"But as I said before, I cannot change what I am as a person and will not change," he concluded.

ALEX KARRAS

The 6-2, 250-pounder from Iowa, who was the first draft choice of Detroit in 1958, has been a standout player for virtually his entire career in Detroit.

Karras was forced to sit out the 1963 season after being suspended by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle for allegedly betting on football games.

Karras, bothered last year by a bad knee, was under considerable criticism for his pass rush deficiencies. He sat out much of the year and was replaced by Don Goich, who also has since been cut.

But this year, Karras said, his knee was 100 per cent sound. He added that for last Sunday's Philadelphia game — the final Lion exhibition of the year — he went all out.

Karras played an outstanding game against the Eagles, frequently decking quarterback Pete Liske.

Karras said that he would only play for a contender, but added he didn't expect to be picked up by any other NFL club.

"My thoughts right now are that I will retire," he said. "If I don't retire, I'll play just one year."

NU's Harrier Coach Expresses Optimism

Nebraska cross country coach Frank Sevigne expresses optimism about the upcoming season despite the loss of Big Eight champion Greg Carlberg.

Despite Carlberg's record-setting four mile victory, the Huskers finished seventh in the Big Eight race. The obvious reason for that finish, was the lack of depth. There were three freshmen and a sophomore behind Carlberg.

But it is those four young runners who provide the reason for Sevigne's optimism. Bob Unger, Lynn Hall, Dan Specht and Jim Hawkins all return and all showed improvement during the 1970 cross country season, then during the indoor and outdoor track seasons.

Sevigne expects those four and Mike Fertig to be the regulars when Nebraska opens the season at Kansas State Oct. 2 in a meet that should give the Huskers some perspective about their chances in the Big Eight.

The Wildcats finished third behind Missouri and Oklahoma State last year, but have the top two returnees in the conference in Rick Hitchcock (2nd) and Jerome Howe (4th).

"We shouldn't be in bad shape," said Sevigne in connection with the Big Eight cross country run in Lincoln, Nov. 6. "We have some good individuals and should be well balanced, but Kansas State will be the toughest team."

Bloomfield's Kohles Receives Initial Prep Football Award

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Bloomfield ended a 14-year victory drought against Laurel on the opening weekend of prep football action last Friday night when the Bees registered a narrow 6-0 triumph.

The all-around play of senior tailback Chuck Kohles spelled the difference in the outcome of the contest. As a result, Kohles earned himself the honor of the season's initial high school Player of the Week.

Kohles rushed for 168 yards on offense and in the waning moments of the clash, when Laurel was driving for the tying touchdown, he intercepted a Bear pass at his own 12-yard line to preserve the win.

Others who had outstanding first-game performances and deserve special recognition include:

Corky Charles, Mead — Returning all-stater paced Mead to a 37-0 halftime lead on the way to a 44-20 win over Yutan. Charles scored five TD's, one on a 59-yard run the first time he touched the ball.

Bob Lingenfelder, Plainview — This defensive ace, a 6-9, 250-pounder, registered 19 tackles in Plainview's 16-14 victory over O'Neill.

Pat Powers, Alliance St. Agnes — Ran for one touchdown, tossed for another while accounting for 232 total yards of offense.

Jack Ball, Lincoln East — Tallied two TD's while gaining 115 yards in seven carries in 21-0 triumph over Grand Island.

Dave Burke, Grand Island Northwest — For his workhorse performance. Carried the ball 28 times and had 15 tackles as a linebacker in 22-6 win over Ravenna.

Terry Milligan, Wymore-Southern — This punt return specialist broke open a tight defensive game with Humboldt. He scored twice on punt returns of 50 and 55 yards, and set up a third with another long runback.

Dave Rosenbaum, Albion — Accounted for all the points in a 14-0 victory over Hartington CC. Tossed for two TD's as well as the extra points.

Dennis Eckert, Hastings — Scored both the touchdown and the crucial two-point conversion as Hastings scored its first victory in 19 games against Lincoln High, 8-7.

Larry Filipi, Milligan — Took the opening kickoff and raced 75 yards for a touchdown against Byron and scampered 63 yards for a second before the first quarter ended, caught a 34-yard pass for another and ran 12 yards for his fourth on the way to a 34-6 triumph.

Forest Hills, N.Y. (AP) — Giant killer Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia stunned favored Arthur Ashe Jr., 7-6, 3-6, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, Wednesday and went into the men's singles final of the rain-plagued U.S. Open Tennis Championships against big Stan Smith, the American soldier from Pasadena, Calif.

The 6-4 Smith, serving 16 aces, turned back speedy Tom Okker of The Netherlands in a match of sporadic brilliance and letdowns, 7-6, 6-3, 3-6, 2-6, 6-3.

Smith and Kodes meet Wednesday for the $20,000 first prize. Also on Wednesday, top-seeded Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., and second-seeded Rosemary Casals of San Francisco play for the women's crown — the first time since 1958 that two U.S. women competed in this final. Eddie Predicted It

Eddie Crowder predicted it. "I believe we're going to win," the Colorado coach said before his team's 31-21 upset of LSU. "I've got a gut feeling."

He also offered this sobering thought for future foes on the Buffs' slate, "This team has the greatest potential of any team we have had in our tenure at Colorado."

Former Missouri quarterback Terry McMillan (1968-69), comparing new Tiger coach Al Onofrio and former coach Dan Devine, says:

"Onofrio has unlimited football knowledge. Coach Devine is the organizer, the planner the handler of men. Onofrio makes the car. Devine sells it."

When Kansas defeated Washington State, 34-0, Saturday, it made new head coach Don Fambrough the first KU coach since Ad Lindsey in 1932 to begin his regime on a winning note.

Gwinn Henry in 1939, J. V. Vikes in 1948, Chuck Mather in 1954, Jack Mitchell in 1958 and Pepper Rodgers in 1967 all lost their first games at KU head coaches and Henry Shenk in 1943 and George Sauer in 1946 could manage only ties.

A Perfect Description

Sports Illustrated writer Dan Jenkins gives a perfect description in last week's issue of the differences between coaching football today and how it once was·

"Not terribly long ago," he writes, "the college coach had to worry about a few untidy problems. He needed to find a quarterback who could draw a play in the dirt with a stick and say 'Hup.' He needed to find a guard who could pull and not run over his quarterback."

Today's coach, Jenkins notes, has other concerns, such as rising costs, dope, revolts, injuries on artificial turf, jets, domes, trustees, fathers, Walter Byers and columnists. In order to be successful, he must be a public relations dynamo, a head shrinker, a federal narcotics agent, a data computer expert, a politician, a salesman, a fund raiser, a board room executive, an after-dinner comedian, a CPA, a social welfare worker. a labor-management consultant, a TV personality, a psychiatrist and a philosopher. In his spare time he can worry about a defense for the Veer-T.

Colorado football caoch Eddie Crowder tells of the letter that goes out each summer to incoming freshman football players. One thing the letter does is to advise them to ship their personal belongings in advance

The letter jokingly tells them to address the trunks to Joe College, Hernia Hall, University of Colorado. "We once had a player, who did just that," Crowder admits.

"After a week or so during which he had to wear the same clothes he arrived with and didn't have a razor or toothbrush, he came to us to ask about locating the trunk. We went to the Railway Express office and there it was. The clerk laughed when we asked about it and he bought the trunk from the boy because of the laughs the employees at the depot had had over it."

Butkus Has Solution

Remember malcontent Dave Meggyesy's attack on pro football in which he claimed among other things that he was taught to use his hands to force a man's cleats into the turf and then drive his shoulder into the man's knee to rip his leg apart?

In the newest issue of Playboy, the question is posed to Chicago Bears' linebacker Dick Butkus in an article entitled, "Mr. Mean." Butkus, asked if that had ever been pulled on him, replied, "Hell, no! All you'd have to do is roll with the block and step on the guy's face."

Kansas football coach Don Fambrough, discussing an injury suffered by KU defensive back Gary Adams, observed that surgery was out of the question because "there's no way he could afford an operation."

Adams' father is K. S. (Boots) Adams, retired chairman of the board of the Phillips Petroleum Co., and his brother is K. S. (Bud) Adams, president of the Houston Oilers. Gary and two other brothers won the Quick Kick beverage franchise in Oklahoma and Texas.

While it's common practice for football teams to return home immediately following the game, Stanford didn't after its 19-0 win over Missouri at Columbia. Coach John Ralston took his entire squad of 78 on to Bear Mountain, N.Y., to prepare for this week's Army game. Classes don't start at Stanford until Sept. 29.

DODGER WIN NARROWS GAP

Colorado Tailback Debute Hurts LSU

By Associated Press

Texas' loss has become Colorado's gain has become Louisiana's loss.

If you can't figure that one out, it means simply that Charlie Davis, one of the best high school running backs in Texas two years ago, spurned his home state to attend the University of Colorado and made his varsity debut Saturday night by carrying 20 times for 174 yards and two touchdowns as the Buffaloes upset ninth-ranked — at the time — LSU.

For that performance, he was named Tuesday as College Back of the Week by The Associated Press for the first weekend of the season.

The 5-11, 198-pound sophomore from West Columbia, Tex., was the most valuable player in the Texas high school all-star game during the summer of 1970 and then gained 125 yards in the Texas-Oklahoma Oil Bowl prep contest.

Recruited heavily, he signed a letter of intent with Texas A&M because of his friendship with track stars Curtis and Marvin Mills. Also, he said, "I already knew some of the players at Colorado like Cliff Branch and Larry Thomas and some of the other kids who were going to come and I knew I'd like it there.

"I didn't want to play in Texas. Except for Texas and Arkansas I don't really think the Southwest Conference is that tough. I wanted to play in as good a conference as possible and the Big Eight is certainly that Missouri and Kansas recruited me very hard, along with Colorado."

As a Colorado freshman Davis gained more than 600 yards in four games and last spring he beat out 6-5, 225-pound Jon Keyworth, 1970's No. 2 varsity ground-gainer, for the No 1 tailback job.

Davis is fast enough, although his :9.8 speed doesn't even make him the fastest on the Colorado team. But he probably has more moves and agility than any other back the Buffs have had under Eddie Crowder

His 174-yard prancing against LSU was the second highest ever by a Big Eight rookie in his varsity debut, surpassed only by the 187 yards gained by Nebraska's Bob Reynolds in the 1950 opener. Davis scored twice against LSU, including a 47-yard gallop on his last carry of the game with 11 minutes left, putting Colorado in front 31-14.

"Charlie's performance was certainly an indication of the kind of ability he has," said Crowder. "He actually was more ready to play than the average sophomore. He has a great amount of maturity and he has as much ability as any back we've had at Colorado in recent years."

In gaining Back of the Week honors, Davis won out over running backs Pete Wood of West Virginia, Steve Jones of Duke, Willie Burden of North Carolina State and Joe Schwartz of Toledo; quarterbacks Larry Russell of Wake Forest and Don Lamka of Ohio State; flanker Dick Graham of Oklahoma State and defensive backs Dickie Harris of South Carolina and Buzy Rosenberg of Georgia.

CHARLIE DAVIS

CU's Davis Named Loop Back

Kansas City, Mo. (UPI) — Charlie Davis had no idea what was in store for him Saturday night in Baton Rouge, La., against the defensive-minded Louisiana State Tigers.

In the first place, he was Colorado's No. 2 running back behind Jon Keyworth. In the second place, he was an untried sophomore. And thirdly, LSU allowed foes only an average of 50 yards per game rushing last season.

"Charlie proved he is a big-league ballplayer," Colorado coach Eddie Crowder understated.

The 191-pound tailback got his chance in the second quarter when Keyworth suffered a broken leg. Davis responded by gaining 174 yards on 20 carries and scored two touchdowns on runs of 3 and 47 yards. Colorado notched a 31-21 upset victory.

"He made yardage on three different kinds of plays," said Crowder. "He made quite a bit up the middle, which pleased us because it proved that he can run inside. Then there was the option play and the quick sweep."

For his efforts, Davis was named as the Big Eight's Back of The Week.

Davis' three-yard score was up the middle, while the 47-yard touchdown came off the option after quarterback Ken Johnson had turned upfield about two yards past the line of scrimmage.

Giants Slipped By LA

San Francisco (AP) — Manny Mota's three-run pinch double in the ninth inning catapulted Los Angeles to a 6-5 victory over San Francisco and vaulted the hard-charging Dodgers within a game of the staggering Giants in the frantic National League West.

The victory was the Dodgers' eighth in a row and eighth straight this season over the Giants, whose once-comfortable 8½-game lead shriveled as they lost nine of 10 games.

San Francisco seemed to have shaken the onrushing Dodgers with a four-run rally in the bottom of the seventh inning, capped by Bobby Bonds' 31st home run and second of the game, a three-run blast off reliever Joe Moeller, 2-3.

But Duke Sims opened the ninth with a single to center, Bill Sudakis batted for Moeller and blooped a single to center and Maury Wills loaded the bases by dumping a bunt down the third base line, knocking out Giants reliever Jerry Johnson, 12-7.

That brought up Mota, batting for Billy Buckner, and the Dodgers' veteran utility outfielder belted John Cumberland's first pitch down the left field line to clear the bases.

The Giants, who lost Monday night's beanball and argument-filled thriller 5-4, trailed Tuesday night's contest 3-1 after Los Angeles scored a pair of unearned runs in the fourth inning.

But they started what seemed to be the winning rally when Chris Speder hit a two-out homer off Dodgers' starter Al Downing in the seventh.

Tito Fuentes then doubled and Moeller took over, walking Willie Mays before Bonds rocketed his homer over the left field fence.

Bonds hit his first homer of the night in the second inning to tie the score at 1-1.

Buckner, one of four players fined by National League President Charles Feeney after being thrown out of Monday night's wild game, led off the Dodger fourth and reached base when first baseman Dave Kingman booted his grounder.

Willie Davis then forced Buckner and Richie Allen popped out before Willie Crawford punched a tie-breaking double down the third base line.

Davis was running on the play and scored easily from first as the Giants' Ken Henderson chased the ball into the left field corner. Wes Parker followed with a single up the middle on a 3-2 pitch to score Crawford.

The Dodgers scored in the second when Allen got an infield single, went to third on Crawford's single and came home on Parker's groundout.

—SPARKS VICTORY OVER LAUREL—

Bloomfield's Kohles Receives Initial Prep Football Award

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Bloomfield ended a 14-year victory drought against Laurel on the opening weekend of prep football action last Friday night when the Bees registered a narrow 6-0 triumph.

The all-around play of senior tailback Chuck Kohles spelled the difference in the outcome of the contest. As a result, Kohles earned himself the honor of the season's initial high school Player of the Week.

Kohles rushed for 168 yards on offense and in the waning moments of the clash, when Laurel was driving for the tying touchdown, he intercepted a Bear pass at his own 12-yard line to preserve the win.

Others who had outstanding first-game performances and deserve special recognition include:

Corky Charles, Mead — Returning all-stater paced Mead to a 37-0 halftime lead on the way to a 44-20 win over Yutan. Charles scored five TD's, one on a 59-yard run the first time he touched the ball.

Bob Lingenfelder, Plainview — This defensive ace, a 6-9, 250-pounder, registered 19 tackles in Plainview's 16-14 victory over O'Neill.

Pat Powers, Alliance St. Agnes — Ran for one touchdown, tossed for another while accounting for 232 total yards of offense.

Jack Ball, Lincoln East — Tallied two TD's while gaining 115 yards in seven carries in 21-0 triumph over Grand Island.

Dave Burke, Grand Island Northwest — For his workhorse performance. Carried the ball 28 times and had 15 tackles as a linebacker in 22-6 win over Ravenna.

Terry Milligan, Wymore-Southern — This punt return specialist broke open a tight defensive game with Humboldt. He scored twice on punt returns of 50 and 55 yards, and set up a third with another long runback.

Dave Rosenbaum, Albion — Accounted for all the points in a 14-0 victory over Hartington CC. Tossed for two TD's as well as the extra points.

Dennis Eckert, Hastings — Scored both the touchdown and the crucial two-point conversion as Hastings scored its first victory in 19 games against Lincoln High, 8-7.

Larry Filipi, Milligan — Took the opening kickoff and raced 75 yards for a touchdown against Byron and scampered 63 yards for a second before the first quarter ended, caught a 34-yard pass for another and ran 12 yards for his fourth on the way to a 34-6 triumph.

Houston, Meely Agree On Pact

Houston (AP) — The Houston Rockets of the National Basketball Association Monday signed their No. 1 draft choice, Cliff Meely of Colorado.

The signing completed summer-long negotiations that forced Meely to miss a previous rookie camp the Rockets held before the franchise was shifted from San Diego.

Terms of the contract were not disclosed.

The Pius X sophomore footballers scored touchdowns in both the first and second quarters to defeat Lincoln East, 12-6, Tuesday afternoon.

Kodes, Smith Vie For Title In Tennis Open

Forest Hills, N.Y. (AP) — Giant killer Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia stunned favored Arthur Ashe Jr., 7-6, 3-6, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, Wednesday and went into the men's singles final of the rain-plagued U.S. Open Tennis Championships against big Stan Smith, the American soldier from Pasadena, Calif.

The 6-4 Smith, serving 16 aces, turned back speedy Tom Okker of The Netherlands in a match of sporadic brilliance and letdowns, 7-6, 6-3, 3-6, 2-6, 6-3.

Smith and Kodes meet Wednesday for the $20,000 first prize. Also on Wednesday, top-seeded Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., and second-seeded Rosemary Casals of San Francisco play for the women's crown — the first time since 1958 that two U.S. women competed in this final. That was the year that Althea Gibson defeated Darlene Hard.

Robinson's Top Honor: Double MVP Awards

. . . EVEN AFTER 500 HOME RUNS

Baltimore (AP) — Frank Robinson belted his 500th major league home run about a year behind schedule, but well before the expected end of a brilliant major league career.

"The way I feel right now, I think I can play another three or four years," the 36-year-old Baltimore Orioles' outfielder said after becoming the 11th player in history to reach the coveted plateau.

Homer No. 500 came in the ninth inning of Monday's second game against the Detroit Tigers, off Fred Scherman. He belted No. 499 in the opener of the twi-night doubleheader off Mike Kilkenny.

"This is a big honor and thrill for me," Robinson said. "This is something that will stand after I'm out of baseball, and I guess it puts me in pretty select company."

When he hit homer No. 494 in Chicago on Aug. 13, Robinson wasn't too excited about passing the late Lou Gehrig on the all-time list.

"After all," he said, "when there are a couple of guys with more than 600 and still playing, it doesn't mean that much to pass another player."

After being injured in a baseline collision halfway through the 1967 season, Robinson lost about a year of top productivity.

"I don't know how much I left at second base on June 27, 1967," Frank said of his slide into second baseman Al Weis of the Chicago White Sox. "All I know is, I haven't been the same hitter since."

Robinson suffered a concussion and an eye injury in the collision, was out a month and then was bothered with double vision when he returned. In 1968, an attack of mumps and a torn muscle in his right arm caused Robinson to see even less action.

After slamming 49 homers in 1966, winning the American League's Most Valuable Player award after helping the Orioles win the World Series in his first season with them, Robinson's home run totals dipped to 30 in 1967 and 15 the following year. For this season, he has 25.

"Before I was injured," he said, "I figured I'd hit No. 500, based on my career averages, about the middle of the 1970 season. After the collision, I threw everything out of the window."

Robinson reached two other noteworthy milestones during the 1971 season, passing the 2,500 hit mark and 1,500 runs batted. But he thinks his greatest honor was being named the MVP in both major leagues.

"That has to be my top thrill, because it's never been done by anyone else," Robinson said. "I can't get too excited about 2,500 hits when Ty Cobb had more than 4,000 hits. He had more than 3,000 singles."

Big Eight Football Briefs

Iowa State

Ames, Iowa (AP) — Coach Johnny Majors warned his Iowa State football team not to underestimate Saturday's opponent, Idaho.

The Vandals were upended by Boise State in their opener last week, 42-14.

"Two things I've always respected in sizing up an opponent are, don't be overawed by your opponent and don't ever underestimate him," Majors said.

Tight end Bob Richardson, 6-5, 233-pound senior, had a cast removed from his foot after 10 days but will definitely miss the season opener, Majors said.

Kansas State

Manhattan, Kan. (AP) — The Kansas State football team concentrated on passing — both its own and that of aerial-minded Tulsa, the Wildcats' foe Saturday.

Coach Vince Gibson said K-State's defense is "really concerned" about the Golden Hurricane receivers.

Offensively, the Wildcat gridders drilled on their passing game and kicking field goals. Kansas State missed three field goal attempts in last Saturday's season-opening loss 10-7 to Utah State.

Oklahoma

Norman, Okla. (AP) — The Oklahoma Sooners held another short practice as they continued preparations for their home openor Saturday with Southern Methodist.

Coach Chuck Fairbanks said the practice was spent on goal line defense, pass offense and protection of the quarterback.

"Our defensive team is becoming a little more familiar with the adjustments we have had to make for SMU's new offense," he said.

Missouri

Columbia, Mo. (AP) — Chuck Roper, one of four Missouri quarterbacks, was named Tuesday by head Coach Al Onofrio to start Saturday against Air Force.

John Venturi, Ed Johndrow and injured Mike Farmer will be in the wings but Onofrio said of Roper, "as of right now he is the starter."

Kansas

Lawrence, Kan. (AP) —Kansas devoted large sections of a 90-minute football workout to its kicking game and defensive secondary.

Coach Don Fambrough said of Saturday's opponent, Baylor: "There defense scares me. They lost a lot of close games last year."

Fambrough said the Baylor line has him especially impressed. "If we move the ball on Baylor the way we did on Washington State, I'd say we have a pretty good offensive team," he said.

Oklahoma State

Stillwater, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma State turned its attention to Arkansas Tuesday in a two-hour workout concentrating on recognition of Razorback offenses and defenses.

Coach Floyd Gass said at Tuesday's press luncheon, "We're pleased to have won our opener against Mississippi State but now we're thinking about Arkansas."

Freshman coach Lee Snider, who scouted the Razorback's 51-20 victory over California, said of OSU's Saturday night opponent, "They have a big play offense. They are as explosive as any Arkansa team I have ever seen."

Hunting Forecast Good

Hunting prospects in Nebraska for 1971 range from bright on the waterfowl scene to about the same as last year for pheasants, quail, and big game, according to the Game and Parks Commission.

Hunters are already in the field for the cottontail season which will run through Feb. 29, and a squirrel hunt that closes on Jan. 31. Bag and possession limits are 7 and 21 on each species.

Next red-letter day on the sportsman's calendar is Saturday, with the opening of the grouse season in the Sand Hills, Panhandle, and southwest and the archery-deer hunt across the entire state. Grouse numbers are roughly the same, and scattergunners will have a month of hunting with a daily bag limit of two and a possession limit of six.

Archers will have until Dec. 31 to connect with a deer. However, the hunt closes during the firearm season, Nov. 13 through 21. Prospects appear about the same as last year, when 19 percent of the state's 4,804 archery-deer permit holders scored.

Other early seasons include the archery-antelope hunt, which is already under way. Bowmen will be after pronghorns until Oct. 31, with the exception of the firearm hunt, Sept. 25 through Oct. 3.

Antelope hunters racked up a 14 percent success ratio with bow and arrow last year, and an impressive 79 percent with rifles. Prospects for both types of hunters appear about the same this year.

The waterfowl picture for Nebraska gunners appears bright, with large flights of ducks expected this fall and a liberal 100-point system that allows as many as 10 birds in the daily bag.

Duck season opens on Oct. 9 throughout the state, closes for three days beginning Nov. 1, then reopens on Nov. 4. It continues through Dec. 20 in eastern Nebraska and through Jan. 9 in the west. Goose hunters will have a 75-day season beginning Oct. 2.

Pheasant hunting, the favorite Nebraska sport for many resident and nonresident outdoorsmen, opens on Nov. 6 and continues through Jan. 16. Ringneck populations are up slightly everywhere but the San Hills and northeast, and limits of 3 roosters daily and 12 in possession should give gunners ample sport. Season dates for quail are the same as for pheasants, but limits are 6 daily and 16 in possession.

Robinson's Top Honor: Double MVP Awards

. . . EVEN AFTER 500 HOME RUNS

Baltimore (AP) — Frank Robinson belted his 500th major league home run about a year behind schedule, but well before the expected end of a brilliant major league career.

"The way I feel right now, I think I can play another three or four years," the 36-year-old Baltimore Orioles' outfielder said after becoming the 11th player in history to reach the coveted plateau.

Homer No. 500 came in the ninth inning of Monday s second game against the Detroit Tigers. off Fred Scherman. He belted No 499 in the opener of the twi-night doubleheader off Mike Kilkenny.

"This is a big honor and thrill for me," Robinson said. "This is something that will stand after I m out of baseball, and I guess it puts me in pretty select company."

When he hit homer No. 494 in Chicago on Aug. 13, Robinson wasn't too excited about passing the late Lou Gehrig on the all-time list.

"After all," he said, "when there are a couple of guys with more than 600 and still playing, it doesn't mean that much to pass another player."

After being injured in a baseline collision halfway through the 1967 season, Robinson lost about a year of top productivity,

"I don't know how much I left at second base on June 27, 1967," Frank said of his slide into second baseman Al Weis of the Chicago White Sox. "All I know is, I haven't been the same hitter since."

Robinson suffered a concussion and an eye injury in the collision, was out a month and then was bothered with double vision when he returned In 1968, an attack of mumps and a torn muscle in his right arm caused Robinson to see even less action

After slamming 49 homers in 1966, winning the American League's Most Valuable Player award after helping the Orioles win the World Series in his first season with them, Robinson's home run totals dipped to 30 in 1967 and 15 the following year. For this season, he has 25.

"Before I was injured," he said, "I figured I'd hit No. 500, based on my career averages, about the middle of the 1970 season. After the collision, I threw everything out of the window."

Robinson reached two other noteworthy milestones during the 1971 season, passing the 2,500 hit mark and 1,500 runs batted But he thinks his greatest honor was being named the MVP in both major leagues.

"That has to be my top thrill, because it's never been done by anyone else," Robinson said. "I can't get too excited about 2,500 hits when Ty Cobb had more than 4,000 hits He had more than 3,000 singles "

Big Eight Football Briefs

Iowa State

Ames, Iowa (AP) — Coach Johnny Majors warned his Iowa State football team not to underestimate Saturday's opponent, Idaho.

The Vandals were upended by Boise State in their opener last week, 42-14.

"Two things I've always respected in sizing up an opponent are, don't be overawed by your opponent and don't ever underestimate him," Majors said.

Tight end Bob Richardson, 6-5, 233-pound senior, had a cast removed from his foot after 10 days but will definitely miss the season opener, Majors said.

Kansas State

Manhattan, Kan. (AP) — The Kansas State football team concentrated on passing — both its own and that of aerial-minded Tulsa, the Wildcats' foe Saturday.

Coach Vince Gibson said K-State's defense is "really concerned" about the Golden Hurricane receivers.

Offensively, the Wildcat gridders drilled on their passing game and kicking field goals Kansas State missed three field goal attempts in last Saturday's season-opening loss 10-7 to Utah State.

Oklahoma

Norman, Okla. (AP) — The Oklahoma Sooners held another short practice as they continued preparations for their home openor Saturday with Southern Methodist

Coach Chuck Fairbanks said the practice was spent on goal line defense, pass offense and protection of the quarterback.

"Our defensive team is becoming a little more familiar with the adjustments we have had to make for SMU's new offense," he said

Missouri

Columbia, Mo (AP) — Chuck Roper, one of four Missouri quarterbacks, was named Tuesday by head Coach Al Onofrio to start Saturday against Air Force

John Venturi, Ed Johndrow and injured Mike Farmer will be in the wings but Onofrio said of Roper, "as of right now he is the starter."

Kansas

Lawrence, Kan. (AP) —Kansas devoted large sections of a 90-minute football workout to its kicking game and defensive secondary.

Coach Don Fambrough said of Saturday's opponent, Baylor: "There defense scares me. They lost a lot of close games last year."

Fambrough said the Baylor line has him especially impressed. "If we move the ball on Baylor the way we did on Washington State, I'd say we have a pretty good offensive team," he said.

Oklahoma State

Stillwater, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma State turned its attention to Arkansas Tuesday in a two-hour workout concentrating on recognition of Razorback offenses and defenses.

Coach Floyd Gass said at Tuesday's press luncheon, "We're pleased to have won our opener against Mississippi State but now we're thinking about Arkansas."

Freshman coach Lee Snider, who scouted the Razorback's 51-20 victory over California, said of OSU's Saturday night opponent, "They have a big play offense. They are as explosive as any Arkansa team I have ever seen."

Hunting Forecast Good

Hunting prospects in Nebraska for 1971 range from bright on the waterfowl scene to about the same as last year for pheasants, quail, and big game, according to the Game and Parks Commission.

Hunters are already in the field for the cottontail season which will run through Feb. 29, and a squirrel hunt that closes on Jan. 31. Bag and possession limits are 7 and 21 on each species.

Next red-letter day on the sportsman's calendar is Saturday, with the opening of the grouse season in the Sand Hills, Panhandle, and southwest and the archery-deer hunt across the entire state Grouse numbers are roughly the same, and scattergunners will have a month of hunting with a daily bag limit of two and a possession limit of six.

Archers will have until Dec 31 to connect with a deer. However, the hunt closes during the firearm season, Nov. 13 through 21 Prospects appear about the same as last year. when 19 percent of the state's 4,804 archery-deer permit holders scored

Other early seasons include the archery-antelope hunt, which is already under way. Bowmen will be after prong-horns until Oct. 31. with the exception of the firearm hunt, Sept. 25 through Oct. 3.

Antelope hunters racked up a 14 percent success ratio with bow and arrow last year, and an impressive 79 percent with rifles. Prospects for both types of hunters appear about the same this year.

The waterfowl picture for Nebraska gunners appears bright, with large flights of ducks expected this fall and a liberal 100-point system that allows as many as 10 birds in the daily bag.

Duck season opens on Oct 9 throughout the state closes for three days beginning Nov 1, then reopens on Nov 4 It continues through Dec 20 in eastern Nebraska and through Jan 9 in the west. Goose hunters will have a 75 day season beginning Oct 2

Pheasant hunting, the favorite Nebraska sport for many resident and nonresident outdoorsmen, opens on Nov. 6 and continues through Jan. 16. Ringneck populations are up slightly everywhere but the San Hills and northeast, and limits of 3 roosters daily and 12 in possession should give gunners ample sport. Season dates for quail are the same as for pheasants, but limits are 6 daily and 16 in possession.

Stocks Decline In Dull Trading

New York (AP) — Stock market prices closed lower Tuesday for the fourth straight day in dull trading.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 7.74 at 901.65. This brought the total decline since Wednesday to some 19 points.

Analysts said they expected the market to continue to show caution until President Nixon reassured investors as to what course the economy might take when the wage-price freeze ends. So far, the President has not announced his new program.

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange totaled 11.42 million shares, up slightly from the 10.10 million shares of Monday.

Of the 1,704 stocks traded on the Big Board, 401 advanced, and 1,012 declined. There were 28 new highs and 22 new lows.

The Big Board index of some 1,300 common stocks fell 0.42 to 54.96.

Declines spread throughout the list, with all categories showing price drops.

The Associated Press 60-stock average dropped 2.5 to 330.0, with industrials down 4.5, rails off 1.5, and utilities down 0.5.

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index was 99.34, off .73.

There were 73 blocks of 10,000 shares or over traded on the Big Board, compared with a revised total of 61 Monday.

On the American Stock Exchange, the price change index dipped 0.11 to 25.50.

Of the 1,119 stocks traded, 258 advanced, and 587 declined. Volume totaled 3.43 million shares, compared with 2.87 million Monday.

Corporate bonds were mostly higher.

Fed Cattle Prices Dip At Omaha

Omaha (AP) — Moderate marketing failed to keep fed cattle prices in line Tuesday as the trade continued to seek a lower quotation level.

Bargaining here was at a moderate pace on a small supply numbering just over 5,000 head. A cost conscious buying side kept the pressure on, trying to reconcile live costs with a depressed situation in the carcass market.

Sales on slaughter steers and heifers worked into a weak to 25-cent lower position leaving heifers fully 50 lower in two days and steers a solid 25 cents under last week's close.

The bulk of the butcher hog run turned steady to 25 cents higher under good demand and light to moderate marketings. The outside peak slipped 25 cents, however. Sows ruled steady.

Fat lambs again found good inquiry at fully 25 cents to instances 50-cent higher bids.

Stocks Decline In Dull Trading

New York (AP) — Stock market prices closed lower Tuesday for the fourth straight day in dull trading.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 7.74 at 901.65. This brought the total decline since Wednesday to some 19 points.

Analysts said they expected the market to continue to show caution until President Nixon reassured investors as to what course the economy might take when the wage-price freeze ends. So far, the President has not announced his new program.

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange totaled 11.42 million shares, up slightly from the 10.10 million shares of Monday.

Of the 1,704 stocks traded on the Big Board, 401 advanced, and 1,012 declined. There were 28 new highs and 22 new lows.

The Big Board index of some 1,300 common stocks fell 0.42 to 54.96.

Declines spread throughout the list, with all categories showing price drops.

The Associated Press 60-stock average dropped 2.5 to 330.0, with industrials down 4.5, rails off 1.5, and utilities down 0.5.

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index was 99.34, off .73.

There were 73 blocks of 10,000 shares or over traded on the Big Board, compared with a revised total of 61 Monday.

On the American Stock Exchange, the price change index dipped 0.11 to 25.50.

Of the 1,719 stocks traded, 258 advanced, and 587 declined. Volume totaled 3.43 million shares, compared with 2.87 million Monday.

Corporate bonds were mostly higher.

Fed Cattle Prices Dip At Omaha

Omaha (AP) — Moderate marketing failed to keep fed cattle prices in line Tuesday as the trade continued to seek a lower quotation level.

Bargaining here was at a moderate pace on a small supply numbering just over 5,000 head. A cost conscious buying side kept the pressure on, trying to reconcile live costs with a depressed situation in the carcass market.

Sales on slaughter steers and heifers worked into a weak to 25-cent lower position leaving heifers fully 50 lower in two days and steers a solid 25 cents under last week's close.

The bulk of the butcher hog run turned steady to 25 cents higher under good demand and light to moderate marketings. The outside peak slipped 25 cents, however. Sows ruled steady.

Fat lambs again found good inquiry at fully 25 cents to instances 50-cent higher bids.

SPUCC Won't Back Freeway Plan

Juniata (AP) — The highway committee of the South Platte United Chamber of Commerce decided Tuesday it would not support the proposed freeway-expressway plan that will go before a highway hearing in Holdrege Sept. 21.

The decision was reached at the SPUCC meeting in Juniata. The committee decided that each town in the area should voice its own opinion on the proposed expressway, which would enter the western part of Nebraska and which, it is projected, will end at Chester within the next 20 years.

The Holdrege hearing will be conducted by the Nebraska Highway Commssion.

The South Platte chamber members are especially interested in the highway portion that would be between Cambridge and Funk.

At the directors' meeting, Jim Sutter, chamber manager at McCook, suggested that the SPUCC support a petition that has already been signed by some 508 McCook area residents, advocating that the Nebraska Soil and Water Conservation Commission initiate a feasibility study to bring water from the Platte River into the western South Platte area.

"It is a crime that so much water should flow down the Platte River unused," Suiter said. "We are seeking the support of organizations such as the South Platte Chambers."

SPUCC President Kenneth Foster of McCook referred the proposal to the Agriculture Committee and asked it to make recommendations as soon as possible concerning the matter.

Oran King of Superior, chairman of the Executive Committee, presented the Holdrege Senior High School Band the SPUCC's Group Youth Achievement Award for honors the band won at the Red River Exposition in Winnipeg, Canada, this summer.

The speaker at a dinner was L. Ronald Fleece, watershed specialist for the state of Nebraska. He stressed the need for local backing of watershed projects.

Fighting Kills 25

Manila (UPI) — At least 25 persons have been killed during the past four days in renewed fighting between Christians and Moslems on Northern Mindanao, a Philippine National Police spokesman said Tuesday. Christian settlers and Moslem residents have been locked in land disputes in the area for more than a year.

SPUCC Won't Back Freeway Plan

Juniata (AP) — The highway committee of the South Platte United Chamber of Commerce decided Tuesday it would not support the proposed freeway-expressway plan that will go before a highway hearing in Holdrege Sept. 21.

The decision was reached at the SPUCC meeting in Juniata. The committee decided that each town in the area should voice its own opinion on the proposed expressway, which would enter the western part of Nebraska and which, it is projected, will end at Chester within the next 20 years.

The Holdrege hearing will be conducted by the Nebraska Highway Commssion.

The South Platte chamber members are especially interested in the highway portion that would be between Cambridge and Funk.

At the directors' meeting, Jim Sutter, chamber manager at McCook, suggested that the SPUCC support a petition that has already been signed by some 508 McCook area residents, advocating that the Nebraska Soil and Water Conservation Commission initiate a feasibility study to bring water from the Platte River into the western South Platte area.

"It is a crime that so much water should flow down the Platte River unused," Suiter said. "We are seeking the support of organizations such as the South Platte Chambers."

SPUCC President Kenneth Foster of McCook referred the proposal to the Agriculture Committee and asked it to make recommendations as soon as possible concerning the matter.

Oran King of Superior, chairman of the Executive Committee, presented the Holdrege Senior High School Band the SPUCC's Group Youth Achievement Award for honors the band won at the Red River Exposition in Winnipeg, Canada, this summer.

The speaker at a dinner was L. Ronald Fleece, watershed specialist for the state of Nebraska. He stressed the need for local backing of watershed projects.

Fighting Kills 25

Manila (UPI) — At least 25 persons have been killed during the past four days in renewed fighting between Christians and Moslems on Northern Mindanao, a Philippine National Police spokesman said Tuesday. Christian settlers and Moslem residents have been locked in land disputes in the area for more than a year.

New Scholarship Plan Announced By NWU

A new scholarship plan, recognizing academic achievement and expanded to include students who rank in the top half of their high school graduating class, will be in effect at Nebraska Wesleyan University for students entering in the fall of 1972.

The plan as outlined by President Vance D. Rogers states that any full-time student who ranks in the upper half of his class and who is accepted for admission will automatically receive one of four of the new scholarships, ranging in amount from $800 to $2,800 over a four-year period.

"This program represents a turn-around in our previous scholarship policy," according to Dr. Rogers. "Previously, we had only one four-year scholarship awarded for academic achievement to academically-gifted students.

"Now we are going to base nearly all of our scholarship help on the basis of high school academic record, expand the number of students eligible for scholarship help, and make all the scholarships renewable for four years," he said.

The new scholarship program lists six scholarships, four of which will be based on academic achievement. They are:

—Trustees' Scholarship, valued at $2,800 over four years to students who have scores of 1,300 or above on the SAT of the CEEB, or are National Merit Finalists or semifinalist or four-year Regents winners.

—President's Scholarship, valued at $2,000 over four years to students who graduate in the top 10% of their class but do not qualify for the Trustees' award.

—Achievement Scholarship, valued at $1,600 for four years, to students in the top one-third of their class who do not qualify for a President's or Trustees' award.

—Plainsman Scholarship, valued at $800 over four years, to students in the top 50 per cent of their class who do not qualify for the Achievement, President's or Trustees' awards.

—Alumni Scholarship, a top value of $150 per year, awarded at the discretion of the director of financial aids.

—Pioneer Scholarship, top value of $200-year awarded by the director of financial aids on the basis of financial need.

All students, including recipients of the four-year awards, are eligible for aid through the Alumni or Pioneer Scholarships and through other financial aid programs including loans, grants, work-study or campus employment, Dr. Rogers said.

With adoption of the new scholarship program, Nebraska Wesleyan will discontinue the guaranteed annual tuition plan for students entering in 1972. That plan guaranteed to full-time students for eight semesters the same rate of tuition paid at matriculation. Students currently under the guaranteed tuition plan will remain on the plan.

Tuition for 1972-73 will be $1,700 per year while the guaranteed tuition rate for students who entered this fall is $1,600.

NWU Recipient Of $5,000 Grant For Elder Gallery

A $5,000 purchase grant from the Woods Charitable Fund, Inc. of Chicago and Lincoln has been received by Nebraska Wesleyan University for Elder Gallery.

Elder Gallery Director Eleanor Lindstrom said the grant will be used to build a collection of Western and Great Plains artists.

"I believe the painters in this area are doing more exciting things than those on the East Coast," Miss Lindstrom said.

She said a recent buying trip to New York left her with the impression that the artists in the east are too concerned with imitating each other.

Community School To Start

The first courses to be offered in a free community school developed by Nebraska Wesleyan University students and members of the surrounding community will begin Wednesday.

A program on environmental studies, coordinated by Steve Krueger, Lincoln junior, will start at 7 p.m., in Fellowship Hall, First United Methodist Church, 50th and St. Paul.

The course will consist of a study of air, water, and solid waste pollution and will include use of movies, speakers, and books.

A homemaking course coordinated by Judy Bowmaster, Seward senior, oriented to consumer buying and family management, will start at 7 p.m., Wednesday at Venture House, 49th and St. Paul.

Other courses to be offered through the community school are:

—Workshop on Communications, beginning Sept. 22, William Lutes, coordinator.
—Celebration 71, Oct. 20, NWU Campus Lounge, 10 a.m., Rev. O. J. Scott.
—Flowers and Gardens, beginning Nov. 2, Coordinator William Lutes.
—I'm Okay-You're Okay, Oct. 12, 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m., Dr. and Mrs. C. Ebb Munden.
—Oral Communication, coordinator Bob Bartle, St. Paul senior.
—Violence, coordinators Dr. John Walker, Brent Warren, Grand Island junior.

Kentucky Stored

Frankfort, Ky. — At the end of last year, 51.2% of all whisky in storage was in Kentucky.

POSTCARD by Stanley

Sunny days. (Button up your overcoat; winter is coming.) But right now, gorgeous days. The Miss America contestants are warming up. Flexing the brisket. Setting the Crest smile. "A pretty girl is like a mel-o-dy."

Girl of our dreams. Miss Adorable of 1971.

All of these muffins come out of the same cookie cutter: 36-24-36. Miss America sounds like a football audible.

☆ ☆ ☆

We go through a little figure stretching around our seaside scatter. "Oh! No!"

Here we are sleepy-eyed over the coffee. The front page rundown of yesterday's disasters.

What is going on in the back room? Crisis Junction! A moppet has fallen in the bay? Somebody has sliced herself with a razor blade?

"What happened?"

"I've gained a half pound!"

☆ ☆ ☆

I said: "Yesterday you lost half a pound. It's like the stock market: Up a little, down a little."

She said: "You don't understand."

Correct. Misunderstanding is mild. Baffled is closer to the word.

I can see a half pound difference shaking up Miss America on the eve of the world's greatest event.

If Miss America hits the chocolate mousse route, 36-24-36 might change 36-24-37. Disaster.

But a household half a pound. I said: "Maybe the scale's wrong."

☆ ☆ ☆

The weaker sex—and there's a chivalrous phrase you don't hear anymore. (I only throw it in to give Women's Lib something to get mad about. Good hunting!)

The fair sex—well, that's another that sends the Lib to their angry typewriters. ("I suppose you, like other chauvinistic males etc.")

Hard to talk about women these days without making a bunch of them mad.

Raised in the old school. Taffy pulls and lemonade. Grandma said: "If you're in a streetcar and a lady is standing, get up and give her your seat."

Grandma carried smelling salts. In case she'd laced her corset too tight.

☆ ☆ ☆

Anyway, women's Lib is against Miss America contests. Because they make Miss America girls into sex symbols.

How you can make a muffin 36-24-36 into something else, they do not say. (How can I help my fantasies, Doctor? That's why I'm on this couch.)

The Miss America people try. Used to be they just poured the girl into a bathing suit and scored her on the judges' blood pressure.

Now we also judge talent. The girls do the bathing suit parade. But they also display their Talents. They recite poetry. They blow saxophones. They do hula hoops.

☆ ☆ ☆

I said: "What's half a pound? You can lose it in half a day. It's not like Miss America."

She came in and said: "Do you mean they have better figures than I do?"

I said: "I didn't say that. I just said it's not like you were in a bathing beauty contest."

She said: "You're trying to make me mad."

I said: "Who me? I am seeking Christian peace and quiet before entering the daily arena to meet the lions."

☆ ☆ ☆

I was a judge in a Miss America contest. Not the big one. A prelim. I judged talent. I judged poise. I judged 36-24-36s.

They gave us scorecards. We were told to use a star system — four stars was highest. I gave them all four stars. The Last of the old-time chivalrous gents.

The fair sex—well, that's another that sends the Lib to their angry typewriters. ("I suppose you, like other chauvinistic males etc.")

Hard to talk about women these days without making a bunch of them mad.

Raised in the old school. Taffy pulls and lemonade. Grandma said: "If you're in a streetcar and a lady is standing, get up and give her your seat."

Grandma carried smelling salts. In case she'd laced her corset too tight.

Anyway, women's Lib is against Miss America contests. Because they make Miss America girls into sex symbols.

How you can make a muffin 36-24-36 into something else, they do not say. (How can I help my fantasies, Doctor? That's why I'm on this couch.)

The Miss America people try. Used to be they just poured the girl into a bathing suit and scored her on the judges' blood pressure.

Now we also judge talent. The girls do the bathing suit parade. But they also display their Talents. They recite poetry. They blow saxophones. They do hula hoops.

I said: "What's half a pound? You can lose it in half a day. It's not like Miss America."

She came in and said: "Do you mean they have better figures than I do?"

I said: "I didn't say that. I just said it's not like you were in a bathing beauty contest."

She said: "You're trying to make me mad."

I said: "Who me? I am seeking Christian peace and quiet before entering the daily arena to meet the lions."

I was a judge in a Miss America contest. Not the big one. A prelim. I judged talent. I judged poise. I judged 36-24-36s.

They gave us scorecards. We were told to use a star system — four stars was highest. I gave them all four stars. The Last of the old-time chivalrous gents.
